

Losses Heavy as Vietnamese Retake District Capital

2 Companies Almost Wiped Out; 2 Americans Captured

BY MALCOLM W. BROWNE

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Government forces recaptured the district capital of Binh Nghia today, but the Viet Cong captured two U.S. enlisted men and wiped out nearly two companies of government troops.

Two other U.S. soldiers, members of the Special Forces, were killed Tuesday night in another action 30 miles north of Saigon. Their deaths brought to 241 the number of Americans killed in combat since December 1961. Thirteen Americans now are missing.

Six U.S. servicemen also were wounded in the three-day battle for Binh Nghia, 40 miles east of Saigon. Fighting still flickered Wednesday evening, but the Viet Cong was believed to have made its final onslaught on the town.

At the peak of the fighting some 1,200 government troops

faced about the same number of Communists, making it one of the largest engagements in Viet Nam in the past four years.

Three U.S. helicopters were shot down Tuesday. The town, jammed with 6,000 Roman Catholic refugees from Communist North Viet Nam, was occupied by the Viet Cong on Dec. 5 but government forces drove them out.

A powerful Viet Cong unit overran Binh Nghia Monday. Two government Ranger companies tried to re-enter the town but were driven off.

New Coup Rumored
A government battalion of 500 men was flown in by helicopter Tuesday but also was repelled. In preparation for the massive assault today, planes dropped flares all night while fighters strafed and bombed Communist positions.

Sen. Russell Wants Survey On S. Viet Nam

Popular Support Needed to Win, Georgian Asserts

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Richard B. Russell says he wants a re-evaluation of the U.S. position in South Viet Nam. The Senate Armed Services Committee which he heads will examine the Viet Nam and Con-

"I thought we made a terrible mistake getting involved in Viet Nam," the Georgia Democrat said in an interview.

"I don't know just how we can get out now, but the time is about at hand when we must re-evaluate our position," Russell said.

"We cannot support the present regime in Saigon unless they are able to attract popular support out in the rice paddies and the villages.

"This has been very expensive in both manpower and equipment. It is costing us $1.5 million every day. A good many Americans have lost their lives."

Russell said the United States could not be "saving those who are a little bit indifferent to their own salvation."

Plans Detailed Study
Russell, a 30-year veteran of military affairs, said he was not "impressed by proposals to bomb these jungle trails."

He referred to recent proposals from some sources that supply lines for the Communist Viet Cong be bombed. He said it

U. S. Post Seen for Former Governor Of Tennessee

WASHINGTON (AP) — Reports circulated today in political, government and farm circles that President Johnson will name former Tennessee Gov. Buford Ellington as secretary or undersecretary of agriculture.

Some sources said Ellington may be named to a high advisory post at the White House. The Federal Bureau of Investigation reportedly was making a check on him of the type that is routine for possible appointees to high government posts.

Ellington returned to Tennessee Tuesday night after visiting Johnson at his Texas ranch. He said he usually makes such a visit during the holidays. In reply to a question, he said he had no plans to leave Tennessee at this time.

Pope Invited to New York Fair

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI was formally invited today to New York next summer to attend the World's Fair.

The invitation was presented to the Roman Catholic pontiff by Thomas J. Deegan Jr., chairman of the fair executive committee, during a Vatican audience.

World's Fair President Robert Moses, Deegan and other members of the committee signed the invitation.

Source said the Pope agreed to consider the invitation. Deegan himself declined to give details on the audience, but said the Pope "seemed receptive."

"I am hopeful," Deegan added.

Sees Breakthrough in War to Conquer Cancer

BY FRANK CAREY

MONTREAL (AP) — An American cancer specialist forecasts that final breakthroughs toward controlling cancer by vaccines and miraculous curative drugs will be achieved "quicker than we'll get to the moon" — perhaps soon after 1970.

Dr. Jacob Gershon-Cohen of Philadelphia said he based that prediction on his confidence that by that time:

1. Final proof will have been established that many, if not most, cancers are caused by viruses; and 2. Further development will have been made on recent discoveries in understanding the structure of the basic core of all viruses — specifically, the nucleic acids DNA and RNA.

He said these discoveries are "probably more significant, if less appreciated by the public,

than the unlocking of atomic energy."

Gershon-Cohen, a radiologist of the Albert Einstein Medical Center, spoke at a news conference prior to acting as chair-man today of a symposium on viruses and cancer at the 131st meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Gershon-Cohen also told news-

1. Achievement of better control over ordinary viruses — including those of the common cold — may help reduce the danger of getting cancer. It is possible some such viruses may be insidious helpers of cancer-causers, or even cancer-causers themselves.

Accused of Murder in Service Station Killing

Itinerant Farm Worker Faces Arraignment in Fond du Lac Court

FOND DU LAC (AP) — Dist. Atty. Thomas Massey said today he is charging an itinerant farm laborer with first degree murder in the holdup slaying of a young service station attendant Tuesday morning.

Massey said 24-year-old Robert L. Scarrah of Lomira would be arraigned before County Judge Hazen W. McEsey later today on charges of murder and armed robbery.

The blond, 6-foot-3, 225-pound Scarrah, was being held in the Burlington jail, some 90 miles south of Fond du Lac. He was arrested at a bus station in Burlington several hours after the body of 20-year-old Richard Sigler, the father of a young daughter, was found in the washroom of the Clark service station, on U.S. 41, nine miles south of Fond du Lac, where he worked.

Fond du Lac County Sheriff Ray Howard went to the State Crime Laboratory in Madison this morning to await the results of ballistic tests to determine whether slugs taken from Sigler's body could have been fired from a .38 revolver found in a car sold by Scarrah shortly before his arrest at Burlington.

The district attorney said Scarrah had admitted the robbery but nothing more. Under-sheriff Harry Rozek said Scarrah told him he approached the filling station attendant with a gun, said "this is a holdup"

Hundreds of Reds Seized by Indian Police

Shastri Regime Accuses Them of Being Fifth Column

Communist headquarters in New Delhi claimed more than 1,000 party members were seized.

Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri's government said the Reds had been "preparing for violence" and "acting as a fifth column" — apparently meaning they had been working for Communist China.

The government, which faces a close election contest with the Communists in Kerala State, hauled Red leaders out of bed in closely coordinated raids all across the country.

The leader of the pro-China Communist party, E.M.S. Namboodiripad, accused the government of paving the way for the elections in Kerala Feb. 15.

Reds Strong in Kerala

Top officials in Shastri's governing Congress party have said privately in recent weeks that the prime minister had little chance of defeating the Communists in Kerala, a politically turbulent state chronically hit by critical food shortages.

Scientist and Family Meet After 19 Years

HONG KONG (AP) — American scientist Dr. Yang Chen-ning and his family from Red China broke into tears of joy and gratitude when they met here for the first time in 19 years.

"It is impossible to describe the joy that shone through the tears," a friend said today of the professor from the Institute of Advanced Studies at Princeton, N. J., who shared the 1957 Nobel Prize for physics.

"I had to turn away. It was too private for even a friend to watch. And I found that I too was crying."

Reunited at Station

Yang, his retired professor father, his mother and his younger brother and sister met at the Hong Kong terminal station of the railway line to the Red China border 20 miles away.

"That was Dec. 19," the friend said, "and the five have hardly been out of each other's sight since that time. It was a wonderful Christmas for all of them."

It was the first revelation that Yang and his family had spent Christmas together in Hong Kong. Previously it had been reported that Yang arrived Dec. 28 and that his family had arrived Dec. 29.

Hong Kong police threw a light security screen around the family. Yang came here for a lecture at Hong Kong Chinese University. His father, Dr. Yang Dan, had been professor at the Tsing Hau University in Peking.

Luxury Liner Runs Aground in Pacific

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Matson Navigation Co. luxury liner Monterey went aground off the island of Bora Bora in the South Pacific Tuesday, the company said.

The 21,000-ton ship apparently was not damaged, Matson said, and its 320 passengers were taken on to Bora Bora on launches, a regular part of the tour.

The passenger ship, which left San Francisco Dec. 20 on a six-week cruise of the South Pacific, probably will be freed by a tug based at the grounding scene near the channel entrance, Matson said.

Flood Emergency Over

15,000 Homeless Families in 5 States Digging Out of Debris

BY LEONARD W. PRICE

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Far West's "flood of a thousand years" entered the recovery stage today as 15,000 homeless families and hundreds of stricken farms and businesses dug out from nature's $1-billion blow.

"As far as the real emergency — that's over, right now," said Jim Morrison, Civil Defense spokesman at Eureka, Calif., in hard-hit Humboldt County.

Outlook Brightens
The report was identical in the five flood-distressed states of California, Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Nevada.

Helicopters and jeeps brought the first outside food supplies in a week Tuesday to the last known isolated pocket — 500 persons stranded in lumbering villages west of Yreka, Calif., near the Oregon border.

"Everything's beginning to look a lot rosier," reported Bill Sowl, Yreka Civil Defense chief.

"They're getting back down 500 persons were still receiving clothing and food from volunteer centers and the Red Cross. Several dozen homeless were bedded down at the Independence, Ore., city hall.

In Washington, latest state to be added to the disaster list by President Johnson, most high water problems have ended. No persons are known to be stranded.

The Yakima River in central Washington posed a potential threat because of two huge ice jams, one a mile long and the other three miles in length. Many passes in the Cascade Mountains remained closed by snow slides.

Snow and Cold
Washington estimated its damage at $7 million.

In Idaho and Nevada, snow or cold weather prevailed, replacing flood conditions unusual for those areas. Rivers neared normal levels.

Idaho estimated damage at $6 million. Nevada officials ventured no dollar estimates of damage.

Meat Loaf Ring

By Lillian Mackesy
Post-Crescent Food Editor

This is the time of year . . . just between holiday bills and taxes due . . . when the homemaker takes to budgeting with a certain grimness. It's often the food budget that comes in for a bit of trimming . . . and this should not mean skimping on food essentials.

Appetite appeal must stay high so the family is both pleased and interested . . . so this is the time when all good cooks come to the aid of their budgets by fixing meals with economy cuts of meat.

At the top of her list is the versatile ground beef, that famous main dish stretcher that takes to meat balls, meat loaves and many other recipes. Everybody makes meat balls, but few make them more delicious than the Danes. They are always light, subtly seasoned, crisp-crusted, bursting with rich juices and in varied shapes, sizes and flavors.

Suggested as a delicious recipe is the "Frikadeller" which the Danish housewife prepares almost every week. Any combination of beef, pork and veal may be used, or just one kind of meat if preferred. The liquid may be milk, water, soda water or any mixture. The recipe featured today is unusual in that the small meat balls are shaped around chunks of tangy blue cheese for a new taste treat.

Then to round out the collection of ordinary meats of the "budget" variety prepared in gourmet style

ASPEN, Colo. (AP) — Mrs. little further in the background. John F. Kennedy skis down the Mrs. Kennedy made three runs deep powder snow on Butter-milk Mountain in a style "a little above average" for a beginner, her instructor said today. Two of the downhill slides were from the midway station to the beginner's slope that rises about 2,000 feet. The last was from the top of the mountain. Before making the final run from the top, Mrs. Kennedy drank tea and lounged a few minutes on the sundeck.

An Expert Racer Carter, 29, a Middlebury, Vt., woman. She taught last year in Europe, is a veteran racer Sunday, but she's becoming an instructor for the Aspen ski school. His wife, Elizabeth, is an expert skier, too.

She picks up instructions in a hurry," Carter said. "We did first break in snowy, cloudy stem christies for the first time weather since Mrs. Kennedy's yesterday." Execution of a stem christiana, a controlled sliding turn, is a major achievement for a novice skier.

A Kennedy Group Mrs. Kennedy, with her children Caroline, 7, and John Jr., 4, is staying here through Sunday. Sen-elect Robert F. Coast from the other direction. The same people must be the ones who play a bridge hand the hard way.

The easy way to make six spades is to refuse the first diamond trick. West must switch to a different suit since a diamond continuation would give you a trick with the jack of diamonds.

You cash the top hearts, ruff a heart in dummy, cash the top clubs, ruff a club, get back to dummy with a trump to ruff another club, and then draw East's last trump. By this time dummy's last club is good, and you can lead a diamond to the ace to reach that last club.

Nothing hard about this, and your only problem is to cash your tricks in the safest order. You should probably draw two trumps first. Then lead out two clubs and a club ruff. Then ruff a heart in dummy, and finally ruff a second club. Any reasonable sequence of plays will work.

As the cards lie, you can make the slam even if you take the first trick in dummy with the ace of diamonds. Cash the top hearts, ruff a heart in dummy, and lead out all of the trumps.

Your last five cards are a trump, two diamonds and two clubs. West and the dummy must each save three clubs and two diamonds. At this point West must discard before dummy.

West must save his clubs and must therefore discard the ten of diamonds. You then throw a club from dummy and lead a diamond to give up a trick to West's unguarded queen. You take the rest of the tricks with dummy's high clubs, and your own jack of diamonds.

The hard way is more spectacular, but it plays both with your partner's blood pressure.

Daily Question

Partner opens with one heart, and the next player passes. You hold: S A Q 8; H 7; D A 6 4 3; C A K 10 4 2. What do you say?

Answer: Bid two clubs. You cannot quite afford to jump to three clubs with neither a powerful suit of your own nor some kind of support for partner's suit.

4 Office Cuties Find They've Flipped Over Same Cool Line

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Our office is what you might call a real swingin' little group. It turns out that four girls, including myself, have been played like crazy—one against the other—by a junior executive. He is tall, dark, handsome and has the morals of an alley cat. He is also loose of lip.

When I came to work here several months ago I fell for the heel and nothing I saw or heard discouraged me. I knew he was dating three other girls in the office and I knew, too, he was blabbing about his success to the other executives. I thought surely he'd be discreet about me because I'm the only one of the girls who had not been married.

Well, we four girls had lunch today and compared notes. The dirty dog has been using the same line on all of us—right down to the romantic phrases and pet names. We'd like to fix his clock. Any ideas?—Distressed Quartette

Dear Quartette: What do you mean fix his clock? His clock seems to be working just fine. He's been making very good time with all you dumb Doras. Never mind his clock, girls. Fix your own.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am sitting up here in my room and this is where you'll be able to find me every evening for the next two weeks. What did I do that was so awful? Well, I got home from a date Saturday night one hour and 10 minutes late.

It so happens Nick's gas gauge went kaffooy and we ran out of gas 12 miles from town. We were supposed to be double-dating with my cousin and we actually were, but we decided to take a little ride after we dropped my cousin and her date off. Nick and I were alone when we ran out of gas in the cornfield. By the time I got diadem. I'll bet there are no home my folks had called my secret failures between her aunt and uncle, the morgue, the police station and the hospitals.

Please print my letter and tell parents that cars are machines and they DO break down once in a while and to be reasonable!—Jailbird

Dear Bird: Parents break down, too—especially when their kids aren't home when they should be. Every day in the year some teen-ager is killed in an automobile accident, and every parent lives with this fear.

Responsible teen-agers are considerate. They don't do impetuous and foolish things like driving 12 miles out of town when the evening should be over. Sweat out your sentence, Toots, and learn from the experience.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Please print this for Canadian Cook's spouse—the louse:

Your head must be as thick as your mother's by-guess-and-by-golly dumplings. That wife of yours who follows the cook book is a jewel in the culinary diadem. I'll bet there are no secret failures between her stove and the garbage collector.

Perfect cookery is simple chemistry. The same ingredients baked at the same temperature for a given length of time will produce the same results consistently.

Junior had better quit telling his wife about the miracles his mother performed in the kitchen with her tasting and guessing. Logic tells us t'aint so.—An Ann Fan

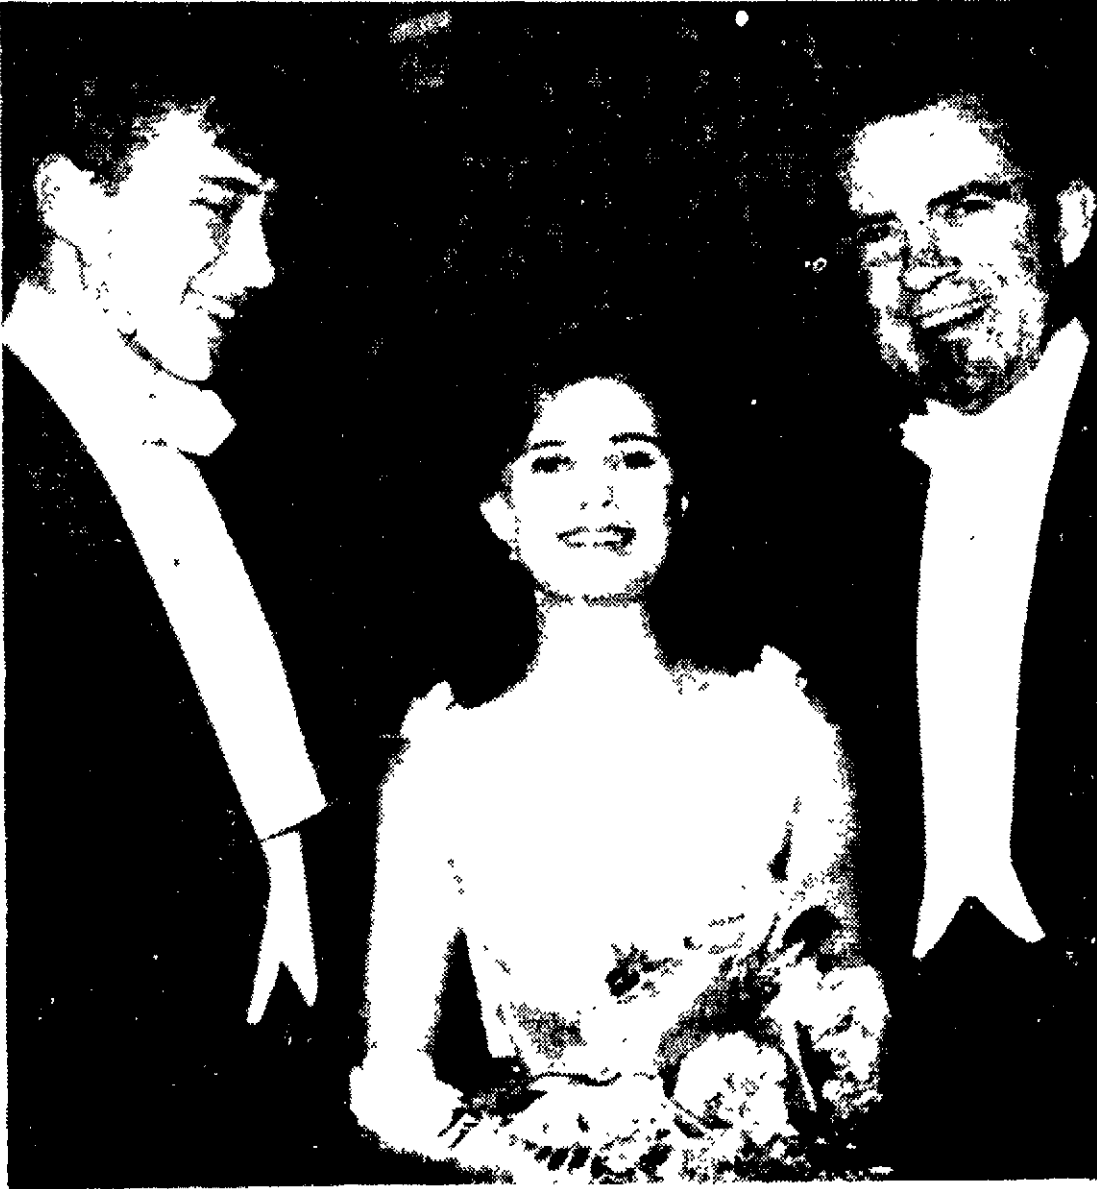

Dear Fan: Junior's family only saw the successes. Mother never served the failures, but I agree with you, she must have had several.

A Party for College students took the place of this year's Coronet Ball at Butte des Morts Golf Club. With no presentees for the annual holiday party, the club invited its young adult set for dinner and dancing Sunday evening. Entering the club, above, are Howard Cohodas, Miss Sharon Martinek, Miss Tara Graham and David Hem. Below, looking at the holiday decor carried out in decorations, are Steve Purdy and Miss Kathy Toal.

The Christmas season is always gala and colorful at Butte des Morts Golf Club, with the party agenda finding a focal point in the Coronet Ball. This year, there were no eligible young women to be introduced, and so the club made holiday plans without that gala evening. Taking its place was a dinner dance for college students, home for Christmas. The party was held at 7 p.m. Sunday, with dancing in the handsomely decorated club beginning at 9 p.m. Mrs. Gordon Gill and Mrs. Raymond LeVee had charge of party plans. They were assisted by Mr. and Mrs. George Beckley Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Hopfensperger, Mr. and Mrs. John Barlow and Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Stehr.

Spot Light Not Right For Study

Decorative lamps and those that direct spots of light may lighten a dark corner or enhance a picture. But don't depend on them for studying, sewing or even casual reading, suggests Katherine Bailey, home management specialist at the University of Wisconsin. Gooseneck lamps, pole lamps and high intensity lamps can add a spot of light at the sewing machine or on a tool in a machine shop. But they should never be used alone for these jobs. No one lamp should really be used alone. Even working at a desk with a study lamp is easier when there is some general light on in the room. Another problem with the lamps giving spots of light is the placement. Gooseneck lamps attached to a pole make it almost impossible to keep one of the lights from glaring across the room into someone's eyes. Even the pole lamps with the improved diffused fixtures attached are hard to place so that they do not create glare. Choose economy beef such as top or bottom round, eye of round or rump roast. Pierce meat deeply with long skewer. Mix together whiskey, sugar, lemon juice, garlic, bitters and oil; marinate meat overnight or for several hours in this mixture. Remove roast from marinade. Combine flour, salt and pepper in a bowl. Place on serving platter. Place on rack in cubes to pan juices; cook, stirring constantly, until sauce is smooth and slightly thickened. Strain into heated gravy stage. This is 140 to 150 degrees. Recipe serves six persons.

the light is directed as it should be. Low squatly decorative lamps or tall chimney-shaped shades don't put light on the desk or reading surface as they should. Diffusion bowls or diffusion type bulbs used in an opaque white-lined shade that's broad at the bottom and open at the top gives a diffused light that covers wider reading areas. Besides having diffused light that is placed close to the work area it's important to have enough light. Use about 200 watts in a desk lamp placed a foot back from the edge of the desk at either the right or left side. Or have two 150 watt bulbs in pinup lamps placed 30 inches apart and have the shade 15 inches above the desk. Or use a 3 foot fluorescent light placed 12 inches back from the desk edge and 15 inches above the desk. These will give the kind and amount of light that doesn't tire eyes. Don't settle for goosenecks and high intensity lamps for reading and sewing

Licensing of Ambulances Is Proposed

Appleton Alderman Says Move Would Improve 'Control'

Legislation making it mandatory for ambulances operating in Appleton to be licensed by the city has been proposed by Ald. R. P. Groh (8th).

The matter came before the city council welfare-ordinance committee earlier in the week and it deferred action, pending the outcome of a survey.

Copies of ordinances which license and regulate ambulances in other communities in Wisconsin and other states are being obtained for study by the committee.

Appleton has no municipal ambulance service as some cities do. The private firms are Lindy's, owned by Harold C. Linzmeier, 1825 S. Oneida St., and Larry's, owned by Lawrence J. Seidl, 116 S. Weimer St.

Groh said he felt ambulances should be licensed.

Furnace Motor Burns, Village Firemen Called

LITTLE CHUTE — Volunteer firemen were called to the Albert Van Dynhoven Sr. residence, 419 E. Main St., about 1:30 p.m. Monday when a blower motor on an oil burner burned out.

No fire resulted, but the house filled with smoke. The owners were advised to have the blower motor replaced.

School Board Sees $26,215 Balance

Surplus Funds Primarily Due To Improvements Not Yet Billed

The Appleton Board of Education will have a $26,215 year-end balance in its 1964 financial operation, due primarily to improvements scheduled for 1964 but not yet billed or completed.

At a special meeting Tuesday afternoon, the board approved the year-end balance and a December bill listing of $31,138.

Operating expenses for 1964 totaled $4,225,330, about $2,000 over the budget but well below income for the year. The school business office has estimated a balance of $1,788 in the $4,487,780 operating budget for 1965, and reported an additional $24,427 balance for 1964.

Main reasons for the balance, school officials said, are: 1. budgeted items for improvements completed during 1964 but not yet billed to the school board, totaling $17,523; and 2. other public improvements scheduled for completion by the city around school property but delayed until the spring of 1965.

Remodeling, Cabinetry Public improvements completed by the city but not yet billed to the school board totaled $8,926. Remodeling and cabinetry for two sewing rooms at Roosevelt and Wilson junior high schools, costing $8,597, were scheduled to be completed in August of 1964 but delayed until the present Christmas vacation. This amount is being carried over into the 1965 budget and will be scheduled for payment in the January bill listing.

During November the school board also received $4,700 in National Defense Education Act aids which had not been budgeted as 1964 income. Participation in the NDEA program was approved by the board last August. Aids received in November will be used to improve science room facilities in Roosevelt and Wilson junior high schools.

Public improvements delayed until spring include sidewalk on Theodore Street around Johnson School, costing $932.

Lawrence University of Lawrenc

The old parlor game of gossip—in which a secret is whispered around a circle of people and the mangled fact announced aloud at the end of the game—has a counterpart in the Fox Cities this week.

The Lawrence University College Bowl team, which has caught both local and national fancy for its three wins against Virginia Military Institute, Southwestern College and Russell Sage College, has been the subject of several bits of harmless fiction.

As indications of public interest, the fictions are tributes in themselves. But for the record, here they are:

Rumor One

Rumor One: That Lawrence has been disqualified from further College Bowl competition because of the premature release of the Lawrence-Russell Sage score, which was videotaped six days before it was shown on the network.

Fact: Untrue. Lawrence will face its fourth opponent, Wilson College of Pennsylvania, at 4:30 p.m. Sunday.

Appleton's contribution to the Lawrence team, Ralph Whitehead, observed: "Well, the producer just sent me $140 for my plane ticket; that looks to me like we're going."

Rumor Two: That Lawrence

will make its "fourth and last" trip to the College Bowl on Sunday. Fact: The fourth trip will be the last trip only if Lawrence loses. It is possible for a team to make five appearances on the College Bowl before being honorably retired. This has been corroborated by a telephone interview with Coach Dan Arnaud at his home in New York City, as well as the report that more than a dozen teams have gone the full route of five games in the seven seasons the College Bowl has been on the air.

Rumor Three

Rumor Three: That Lawrence will tape its fourth game rather than play it live, and therefore the score will be available Saturday night. Fact: Untrue. According to Coach Dan Arnaud, Sunday's game will be done live. Ralph Whitehead corroborates: "Well, if they're going to tape it, they'll have to do it about 3 o'clock in the morning, because we weren't told to get to New York until Saturday night."

If Lawrence wins its fourth game, it will have a week's layoff before its final contest Jan. 17. The regular College Bowl time is being preempted by the network Jan. 10, reportedly for a football game.

The opponent scheduled for Jan. 17 is the University of Bridgeport. If Lawrence successfully wins its fifth game, it can return to the campus with a total of $9,000 for the scholarship fund: $7,500 of it won during its five contests and $1,500 offered as a bonus for a perfect record by a New York department store.

Silver Trophy

Accompanying a fifth win is a silver "College Bowl" engraved with the names of the winning teammates, to be placed in the permanent trophies of the institution.

No one at Lawrence is counting chickens prematurely, however. For the moment, the burning issue is to win the fourth contest. Since the members of the College Bowl team are scattered in Wisconsin, Iowa and North Dakota on their various Christmas vacations, they will not meet again until this weekend in New York. They'll have less than 24 hours to get rid of their vacation lethargy before TV time.

With the pressure of airline travel during the New Year's weekend, the team has not been able to get a group reservation until Tuesday, Jan. 5, when they will return to Appleton via North Central's 12:54 p.m. flight.

Accompanying a fifth win is a silver "College Bowl" engraved with the names of the winning teammates, to be placed in the permanent trophies of the institution.

No one at Lawrence is counting chickens prematurely, however. For the moment, the burning issue is to win the fourth contest. Since the members of the College Bowl team are scattered in Wisconsin, Iowa and North Dakota on their various Christmas vacations, they will not meet again until this weekend in New York. They'll have less than 24 hours to get rid of their vacation lethargy before TV time.

With the pressure of airline travel during the New Year's weekend, the team has not been able to get a group reservation until Tuesday, Jan. 5, when they will return to Appleton via North Central's 12:54 p.m. flight.

Lawrence University of Lawrenc

The old parlor game of gossip—in which a secret is whispered around a circle of people and the mangled fact announced aloud at the end of the game—has a counterpart in the Fox Cities this week.

The Lawrence University College Bowl team, which has caught both local and national fancy for its three wins against Virginia Military Institute, Southwestern College and Russell Sage College, has been the subject of several bits of harmless fiction.

As indications of public interest, the fictions are tributes in themselves. But for the record, here they are:

Rumor One

Rumor One: That Lawrence has been disqualified from further College Bowl competition because of the premature release of the Lawrence-Russell Sage score, which was videotaped six days before it was shown on the network.

Fact: Untrue. Lawrence will face its fourth opponent, Wilson College of Pennsylvania, at 4:30 p.m. Sunday.

Appleton's contribution to the Lawrence team, Ralph Whitehead, observed: "Well, the producer just sent me $140 for my plane ticket; that looks to me like we're going."

Rumor Two: That Lawrence

will make its "fourth and last" trip to the College Bowl on Sunday. Fact: The fourth trip will be the last trip only if Lawrence loses. It is possible for a team to make five appearances on the College Bowl before being honorably retired. This has been corroborated by a telephone interview with Coach Dan Arnaud at his home in New York City, as well as the report that more than a dozen teams have gone the full route of five games in the seven seasons the College Bowl has been on the air.

Rumor Three

Rumor Three: That Lawrence will tape its fourth game rather than play it live, and therefore the score will be available Saturday night. Fact: Untrue. According to Coach Dan Arnaud, Sunday's game will be done live. Ralph Whitehead corroborates: "Well, if they're going to tape it, they'll have to do it about 3 o'clock in the morning, because we weren't told to get to New York until Saturday night."

If Lawrence wins its fourth game, it will have a week's layoff before its final contest Jan. 17. The regular College Bowl time is being preempted by the network Jan. 10, reportedly for a football game.

The opponent scheduled for Jan. 17 is the University of Bridgeport. If Lawrence successfully wins its fifth game, it can return to the campus with a total of $9,000 for the scholarship fund: $7,500 of it won during its five contests and $1,500 offered as a bonus for a perfect record by a New York department store.

Silver Trophy

Accompanying a fifth win is a silver "College Bowl" engraved with the names of the winning teammates, to be placed in the permanent trophies of the institution.

Town of Menasha Mails $958,680 in Tax Bills

2,484 Residents Will Pay Personal Property, Real Estate Assessments

MENASHA — Tax bills seeking collection of $958,680 from 2,484 property owners in the Town of Menasha have been placed in the mail, Ebbe Berg, town treasurer, announced today. The bills include 3,690 real estate bills and 292 personal property bills.

Tax rates are $25.82 per $1,000 for property owners in the Neenah Jt. School District, $20.29 for property owners in the Menasha Jt. School District and $24.96 for those in the Appleton district. In addition special levies, amounting to $5 per $1,000 assessed valuation, will be collected in Sanitary District No. 2 and Sanitary District No. 4, both on the east side of the Large to Back 4-Year College

Tells Mitchell He Favors Proposed Northeastern School

Appleton officials have the assurance of a state legislator that he will give full support to construction of a four-year university in the Northeastern Wisconsin area.

Fourteenth District State Sen. Gerald D. Lorge has written Mayor Clarence Mitchell and the city council, noting they passed a resolution Dec. 22 favoring the state-supported school of higher learning.

"You can be sure that I appreciate the action of the mayor and common council and will do my utmost to assist your city and other Northeastern Wisconsin communities to have the legislature of 1965 and the governor adopt this proposal," the Bear Creek Republican said.

Cities Enrollments

"There is no question in my mind that such an institution of higher learning could well be supported with the projected student enrollment of the 15-county area that would use the school," Lorge added.

"You can count on my 100 per cent support in favor of the action you have taken," Lorge concluded.

Reynolds to Be Resident Of Madison

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — John W. Reynolds won't return to Green Bay to live when he retires as governor next week.

Gov. Reynolds disclosed today he will remain a Madison resident and will make the Capital City his legal residence.

He has arranged for a home in a Madison suburb when he acquires the state-operated executive mansion at the end of his term Monday.

The decision apparently relates to his candidacy for appointment to the U.S. District Court for Wisconsin's western district.

An executive office aide today confirmed Reynolds has wired a stipulation of the judicial selection committee guilt and forfeited a cash bond of the State Bar of Wisconsin of $29,500 and six points against which is now considering recommendations to the White House for the judicial appointment per hour in a 30 mph zone on ment, that he had decided after P. Commercial Street. The citation Nov. 4 election to remain in Madison.

PSC Gives Iola Authority To Construct Water Utility

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — For the first time in its 72-year history, the Village of Iola in western Waupaca County will have a public water supply and distribution system.

The Public Service Commission (PSC) has approved plans for the construction of water community has considered facilities following the approval of public water supply system for the village administration's several decades. It proposed proposal in a recent referendum such a project in the 1930s as among village voters.

The system to serve the village which has an estimated population of 960 will represent a capital investment of about $260,000. Financing will be through the sale of water revenue bonds for about $160,000, an unfavorable vote on a water customer connection utility proposal, but when charges that will produce about other referendum was ordered $39,000, assessments varied at last September, the project won according to customer consumption by a margin of 296 to 182, in one town, and local government appropriations, according to the record.

Neenah Man In New Post for American Can

Willard Gehrke Is Research Director In Barrington, Ill.

NEENAH — Willard H. Gehrke, formerly director of research & development for the American Can Co. here has been appointed director, rigid container research, at the company's research facilities at Barrington, Ill.

Gehrke, a chemical engineering graduate of the University of Wisconsin at Madison, joined the American Can Company's Marathon Division in August 1947, as a process engineer. Subsequent assignment, entailing manufacturing and process engineering, led to his appointment as research & development director in Neenah in September, 1962.

In his new position Gehrke will report to Ross C. Wilcox, vice president - planning & development at American's headquarters in New York. Gehrke's new assignment, according to Wilcox, will give him the opportunity to contribute his product development experience to his new area of work in the rigid containers field.

He is a member of the American Chemical Society, Technical Association of the Pulp & Paper Industry, American Institute of Chemical Engineers and the Packaging Institute.

Gehrke is married to the former Natalie Miller. The Gehrkes have three sons.

Crews Start Demolition of Athearn Hotel

OSHKOSH — Demolition crews Tuesday began erasing Hotel Athearn, a site where much of the city's history over the last 75 years had been recorded, from the face of the downtown area.

Workmen from Berg and Henn Inc., Appleton, moved in a crane and other equipment Monday and began the upper floor from the four-story building Tuesday.

The hotel was purchased in July by new American Bank and is being cleared to make way for a new bank building, part of a downtown revitalization program.

From the time the Athearn was built in 1889 until it closed in July, it served as one of the main meeting places of Winnebago and organizations. Over the years, the hotel was host to a president, presidential candidates and noted actors.

The Athearn was built by George W. Athearn Sr. in the fall of 1889. His family operated it from its opening in 1891 until 1944, when it was sold to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kewley. They retained title to the hotel until October, 1963, when they sold it to Andrews Hotel Corp., Miami, the firm that sold it to the bank.

One of the main attractions at the hotel was the English Room, a large dining hall paneled in oak with huge chandeliers and large mirrors.

Builders of the new $3 million Pioneer Marina Hotel will use the rubble from the Athearn as their building's foundation.

Bar Operator Denies Minors Were Loitering

Melvin Ludwig, 33, 403 1/2 W. Eighth St., the current agent for Ludwig's Lanes, Freedom, pleaded innocent Tuesday to a charge he allowed minors to loiter in the beer bar. Trial was set for March 17 in Outagamie County Court Branch 2 and Ludwig posted bond of $200.

The charge against Ludwig came after an investigation by Brown and Outagamie County authorities into the accident in which four young people died on West De Pere early this month. Sheriff Calvin Spice maintains that two of the young people, both 17, were in the beer bar prior to the accident.

Abandoned on Highway

Unwanted Dogs Find Warmth, Friendship

NEENAH — Three discarded dogs are warm and happy because four teen-age girls took compassion on them.

Linda Corr, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Corr, 424 Eleventh St., Lynn Dumke, 17 and her twin sisters Karen and Kalen, 13, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Dumke, 852 Marguett St., Menasha, found three discarded animals huddled and shivering in the snow near U.S. 41, Monday, abandoned by owners. The girls were horse back riding at the time.

The girls befriended the dogs and took them to the stables where they keep their horses. The dogs were wrapped in blankets and fed before taking them to the Animal Welfare Shelter at U.S. 41 and County Trunk G. The girls arranged transportation to the shelter with Mrs. Corr.

The girls couldn't understand how anyone could be so cruel and thoughtless to abandon the dogs in the cold and snow.

The youngsters, in a note, begged for someone to offer the dogs a home. All the dogs need is someone to love and care for them, they said.

Reading Course Improves AVS Students' Speed Rate

A statistical study of students Jan. 12 through March 16 enrolled in accelerated reading Kenneth McMahon will teach courses at Appleton Vocational the adult group, meeting from 7 to 9 p.m. Wednesdays from Jan. 13 through March 17.

Registrations will be accepted during the week of Jan. 4. High school students must be 16 years of age or older and receive a permit from their counselor to take the class. The $8 course fee includes a book, tests and use of equipment.

Accelerators, reading exercises and the tachistoscope are used in the course to increase reading speed and improve vocabulary and comprehension.

Youths Learn Street Isn't Place to Discard Soft Drink Bottles

Four youths learned the hard way Wednesday night that streets are not acceptable places to discard soft drink bottles.

An Appleton policeman came upon the four in the 1500 block of N. Meade Street shortly before midnight and questioned them about broken glass in the street.

The four readily admitted they had thrown the bottles into the street and walked away.

A shovel and broom was brought to the area from the home of one of the youths and the policeman supervised the cleanup.

The youths apologized for their behaviour and told the policeman they were "embarrassed" by their actions.

Farmer Chokes Rabid Fox That Attacked Him

FRANKLIN, Tenn. (AP) — A farmer, attacked and bitten Tuesday by a fox in a rabies-infested area of middle Tennessee, choked the animal to death with his bare hands.

Eugene White, 40, immediately took the first of a series of antirabies injections.

Williamson County has been one of the epidemic areas for the fox rabies outbreak in Tennessee. State health authorities have identified 382 positive cases of rabid foxes this year, most of them in recent weeks.

White said he was gathering corn when he saw the fox racing across a field toward a flock of sheep. When the farmer started for a gun, the fox turned on him.

"He leaped waist high at me, and I ran backwards causing him to miss on his first try," White said. "I kicked and missed him. On the next charge, he grabbed my right ankle through my pants. I tried to run backward, kicking at him at the same time, lost my balance and fell on my back."

White said the fox lunged at his throat, but he beat off the attack with a pair of loose work gloves, then got the fox around the throat and choked it to death. He later shot the animal. The fox was turned over to a county rabies control officer.

Theater Cleared By Bomb Threat

EAU CLAIRE (AP) — More than 150 teenaged persons were evacuated from the State theater in downtown Eau Claire Tuesday night after a bomb threat.

The young people had gathered at the theater for a live radio show and a rock 'n' roll movie when the cashier received a telephone call saying that a bomb was scheduled to go off at 11:30 p.m.

Police and firemen cleared the theater quickly. No bomb was found.

Railway Firm Wins PSC Approval to Serve Communities

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — Establishment of a permanent highway express transportation service by the Railway Express Co. from Green Bay into northeastern Wisconsin and westward to Ashland has been authorized by the State Public Service Commission.

The commission explained service is needed, and that the express agency will use motor routes because some trains of the Chicago North Western Railway Co. between some of the localities involved, have been discontinued.

Four motor carrier companies opposed the REA application at a recent hearing, but the commission said the proposal was in the public interest because of the showing of need of the shippers and consignees in the areas involved.

Approved Routes
The approved motor routes would be from Green Bay to Wittenberg, from Wittenberg to Monico, from Rhinelander to Manitowish, and then to Ashland.

The express company has been providing express service in highway trucks under a temporary certificate issued last summer.

The remaining train schedules between Green Bay and Ashland are not conducive to the maintenance of express service schedules, it was said.

The certificate requires that the service will be limited to express matter.

"No appreciable traffic diversion from other motor carriers will result, in that with the grant of the certificate, the applicant will continue to transport traffic it formerly had when rail transportation was available and any additional diversion would be no greater than if the rail portion of its operation could have continued," the regulatory agency said.

Judge Parnell On National Advisory Unit

NEW YORK (AP) — Circuit Judge Andrew W. Parnell of Appleton Wis., was named by the American Bar Association Tuesday to an advisory committee to help establish the first uniform national standards for the administration of justice in the United States.

Judge Parnell, whose 10th circuit includes Langlade, Outagamie and Shawano counties, was appointed to the advisory committee on prosecution and defense functions.

Parnell has been recommended for the State Supreme Court by lawyers in his district three times in recent years.

Moves to have the Somerset native appointed to Wisconsin's highest court were made earlier this year and in 1962 and 1958.

Parnell was appointed circuit judge in 1952 by Gov. Walter Kohler. He has since been elected to two six-year terms, including his most recent victory in April, 1963.

The judge is director of and a teacher at the new National College of State Trial Judges "school" at the University of Colorado Law School. He is also chairman of the National Conference of State Trial Judges.

Two Men Fined $100 On Disorderly Charges

KAUKAUNA — Two men pleaded guilty to disorderly conduct charges Monday and were fined $100 when arraigned before Municipal Justice Oscar T. Johns.

Richard Hurst, 33, 537 N. Division St., Appleton, was arrested after causing a disturbance at the home of his estranged wife and Gary Vanevenhoven, 24, 604 Meade St., Kaukauna, was arrested on the street after being involved in an altercation at a private home following a party.

Youths Injured As Car Hits Tree

KIMBERLY — Two village youths were injured in an accident in the 500 block of E. Maes Avenue at 1:30 a.m. Tuesday when the car in which they were riding skidded on ice and hit a tree.

James R. Geenen, 17, 604 E. Third St., Kimberly, was driving east when his car skidded. He applied the brakes and the car skidded over the curbing and hit a tree. He suffered a bruised and cut nose. A passenger, Kim Williams, 18, 409 E. Maes Ave., suffered facial cuts.

Licensing of Ambulances Is Proposed should be licensed by the city "because I think it should have better control over the situation."

Groh said the city also should have something to say about the speed limits of emergency vehicles.

"My purpose is strictly objective," Groh said. "I think there can be improvement."

The opinions of the county and state medical societies also are being sought by the committee.

City Clerk Elden Broehm said there was nothing on the municipal books dealing with ambulances.

However, state statute gives the sheriff the power to authorize the operation of private ambulances within a county.

"Both Appleton ambulance services have received authorizations from my office," Outagamie County Sheriff Calvin Spice said. He said the owners were required to fill out a standard form.

Spice said the ambulances must have certain emergency equipment and first-aid trained personnel in order to operate in the county.

Bulk of Orbison Estate Distributed to Widow; YMCA Gets $10,000

Bulk of the $260,234 estate left by Thomas E. Orbison, former director of Orbison and Orbison Inc., an Appleton engineering consulting firm, was left to his widow, Ann. A $10,000 share was donated to the Appleton YMCA. The estate was distributed in Outagamie County Court Branch I Tuesday.

Mrs. Orbison was left $108,442 and the remainder of the estate went to various trust funds for grandchildren. Deductions totaled $23,335, including federal taxes of $8,235. Orbison died Oct. 4, 1963, and lived at 319 N. Meade St.

AMA Advises

At Resolutions Time, Include Health Check

When you get around to making annual New Year's resolutions, the American Medical Association (AMA) advises, don't forget about your health and the health of your family.

Ask yourself a few questions at the beginning of the New Year—

How long has it been since I had a really thorough physical examination? How long since the others in my family have had a proper checkup?

How long has it been since all of us have had a visit with the dentist?

How many of us in the family are definitely too fat? Or too thin?

How long since the family has been immunized against such diseases as smallpox, polio or tetanus? Is it time for boosters?

Regular Exercise

Do all of us in the family get enough regular exercise? Exercise that is vigorous enough to stretch the muscles and set the heart to pumping a little more?

How long has it been since we had our eyes checked and the prescription changed for specs for those of us who need them?

How long has it been since we made an objective safety survey of our household? Are there

A typing speed of 40 words per minute is required for those taking the five-week dictaphone transcribing course.

Two new data processing courses taught by Mrs. Clifford Boettcher are the third and fourth semesters of a two-year sequence. They are programing techniques, 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. Mondays, and Fortran programming, 7 to 9 p.m. Thursdays.

Shorthand and typing refreshers will meet from Feb. 17 to March 18, with the shorthand dictation course meeting from 7 to 9 p.m. Wednesdays and the review typing from 7 to 9 p.m. Thursdays. A five-week mathematics refresher course will meet from 7 to 9 p.m. Wednesdays, starting Jan. 13.

Limited Openings

Limited openings are available in five business courses: beginning typewriting, from 5:15 to 7 p.m. and a second section from 7 to 8:45 p.m. Mondays and Wednesdays; review shorthand theory, 7 to 9 p.m. Mondays; "Write It Right," 7 to 9 p.m. Mondays, and beginning bookkeeping, 7 to 9 p.m. Mondays and Thursdays.

Milton Ness, coordinator of general subjects, has announced five new courses. Child psychology, taught by Art Malin, will meet from 7 to 9 p.m. Wednesdays, and will emphasize development of the normal child.

Conversational German, taught by Mrs. C. L. Brown, will meet from 7 to 9 p.m. Wednesdays. John Jeske will teach a course in painting fundamentals, meeting from 7 to 9 p.m. Mondays. This is a basic course preceding watercolor and oil painting courses.

Two accelerated reading courses are planned.

Thomas O'Hearn will teach a section for high school students only from 7 to 9 p.m. Tuesdays. Kenneth McMahon will teach a section for adults only from 7 to 9 p.m. Wednesdays.

Ceramics, Painting

Ness said limited openings are available in ceramics and oil painting, both meeting 7 to 9:30 p.m. Wednesdays; oil painting, 7 to 9:30 p.m. Tuesdays; jewelry and lapidary, 1:30 to 4 p.m. Mondays; basic drawing, 7 to 9 p.m. Thursdays, and watercolor painting, 7 to 9 p.m. Mondays.

Mrs. Lois Rusch, homemaking coordinator, is taking enrollments for a new luncheon class, from 10 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Tuesdays. Mrs. Jean Melchert, the instructor, will present buying tips, food preparation short cuts, pointers on economy meat cuts and preparation, and interesting menus.

Homemaking Classes

Openings are available in several homemaking classes: three sections of rugcraft, meeting from 1:30 to 4 p.m. Tuesdays, 7 to 9:30 p.m. Tuesdays or 8:30 to 11 a.m. Fridays; hat design, 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. Thursdays; drapery, 1 to 4 p.m. Fridays; hat design, 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. Thursdays.

Dismal Siege Should Last Into 1965

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Wisconsin is caught up in a siege of dismal, cloudy but mild weather that gives every indication of continuing into the new year.

Light freezing drizzle mixed with snow was reported at Eau Claire and Ashland today and freezing drizzle was falling at La Crosse. Light drizzle was reported at Lone Rock.

Most of the state received some form of precipitation Tuesday and Tuesday night in the form of rain, snow, sleet, freezing rain and freezing drizzle. Fog also occurred in many areas.

Eau Claire had .21 of an inch of precipitation, Park Falls .13 and Wausau .10.

The snow was confined generally to northern areas.

Temperature highs Tuesday ranged from 43 at Beloit to 28 at Superior.

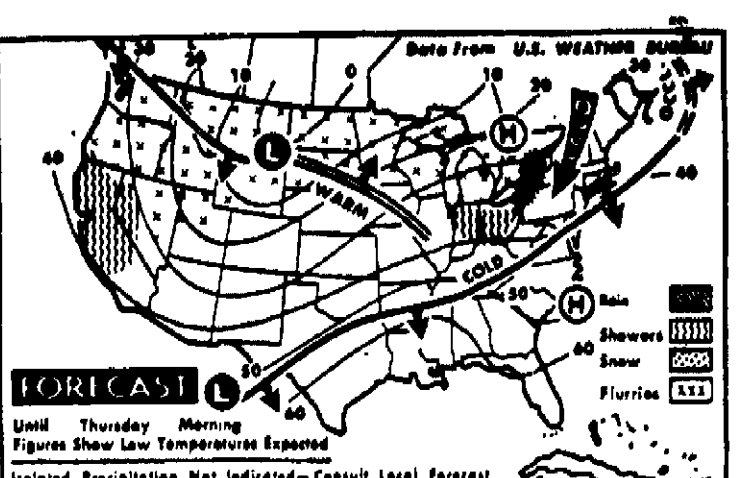

Early today the coldest place in Wisconsin was Eau Claire with 15 degrees. Superior reported 22, Park Falls and Wausau 23, La Crosse 29, Green Bay 31, Madison and Lone Rock 33 and Milwaukee 35.

McAllen, Tex., topped the country Tuesday with 86 and Havre, Mont., had the low of 25 below zero early today.

Packers, Cards Working Hard For Playoff Tilt

Divisional Pride At Stake, Says Bays' Lombardi

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The hot Miami sun and two-hour morning workouts are erasing holiday surplus fat and staling from the Green Bay Packers and St. Louis Cardinals, priming for Sunday's playoff Bowl game between divisional runners-up of the National Football League.

"It's like the training camp all over again," puffed one 280-pound Cardinal lineman after a strenuous drill Tuesday.

"Where am I going tonight?" asked one of the Packers. "I'm going to bed — I'm completely whipped."

Both Green Bay Coach Vince Lombardi and St. Louis Coach Wally Lemm stressed that the game wasn't being taken lightly.

"We are working for this game just as we would any other," said Lemm.

"This game means a lot to each of us," said Lombardi. "Divisional pride is at stake."

The Packers, runner-up to the Baltimore Colts in the Western Division, are one touchdown favorites over the Cards, who finished second to the champion Cleveland Browns in the Eastern Division.

Cards Anxious

The Cards are anxious to hold up the prestige of the East, buoyed by the Browns' 27-0 rout of the Colts in last Sunday's title game.

Both the cards and Packers hold decisions over the Browns this year, making them something of giant-killers. The Cards, after tying the Browns 33-33 in an early season game, came back for a 28-19 victory. The Packers beat the champions 23-21.

In drills this week, the Cards have put stress on stopping the Packers' stout running attack, built around Paul Hornung and powerful Jim Taylor. Quarterback Bart Starr is a constant passing threat.

The Cards, on the other hand, are essentially a passing team with Charlie Johnson at the trigger. Bill Thornton and Prentice Gaut have been running well in practice.

Green Bay will be at full strength. The Cards will be strengthened with the return of Bob Reynolds, the starting offensive left tackle who has been out for six weeks with an injury.

Joe Childress, a halfback, is out of action with an injured shoulder.

In recent years, the Cards have had little success against the Packers in regular league games but they beat Green Bay in their last meeting — a 20-7 exhibition victory in New Orleans.

Wrigley Suggests Each Club Play A Few Games in Milwaukee in '65

MILWAUKEE (AP)—A revolutionary plan under which Milwaukee baseball fans would be host to each of 20 major league teams for a few games in 1965 has been suggested by Phil Wrigley, owner of the Chicago Cubs.

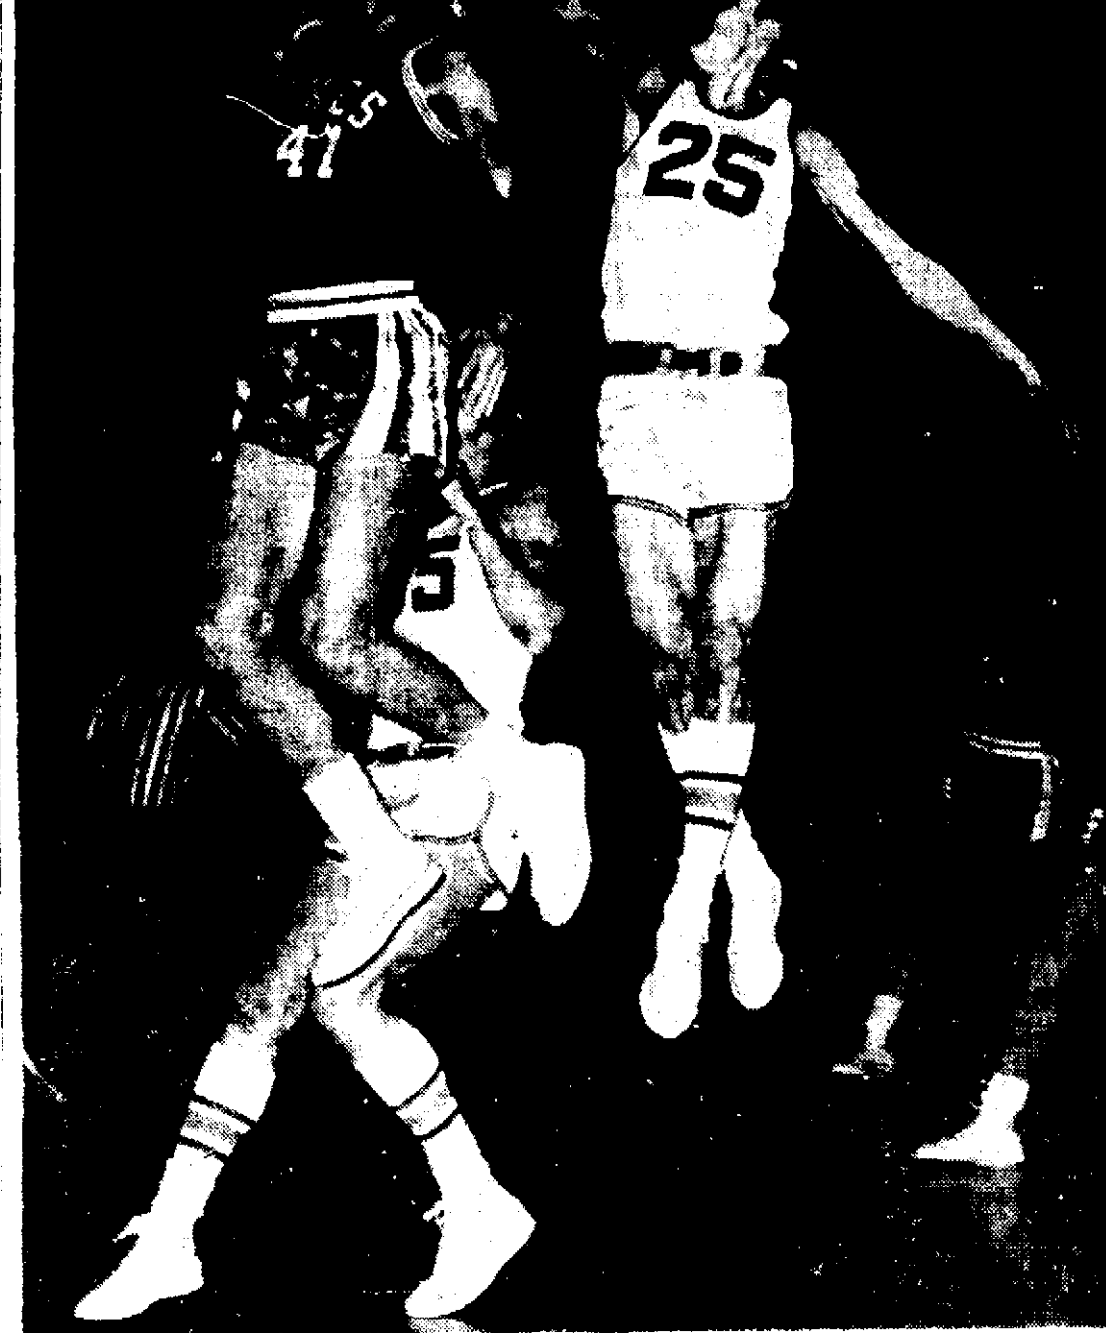

Wrigley told Milwaukee Sentinel baseball writer Lou Chapman in a telephone interview Tuesday that, if granted permission by both the National and American leagues, he would be willing to allow the Cubs to play a few games in Milwaukee County stadium "for the good of baseball."

"However, it would be very much better if all the clubs played some of their games in Milwaukee," Wrigley said. "Milwaukee would have more varied baseball than any other city in the country."

The Cubs owner said that "a concerted effort should be made by all of baseball to keep some kind of major league baseball in Milwaukee."

Owe to City
"We owe it to the city," Wrigley added.

Wisconsin Wins, Advances To Rainbow Classic Finals

Badgers Duel Marines for Championship

HONOLULU (AP) — Wisconsin's basketball Badgers broke loose in the second half and romped to an 89-65 victory over the Subpac Raiders Tuesday night in gaining the finals of the Rainbow Classic.

The Badgers flashed a balanced attack in defeating the submarine base team which had won seven of nine previous outings.

Mark Zubor, who connected for only three points before fouling out in Wisconsin's opening 70-69 victory over Boston College, and unheralded junior guard Paul Morenz paced the Badger attack, each scoring 18 points.

Scores 12 Points
Four other Badgers hit in double figures. Ken Barnes scored 12 points and Jim Bohen, Ken Gustafson and Keith Stelter 10 each.

Wisconsin took a 35 - 31 half-time lead and then broke a 16-16 tie to lead 41-16 at the end of the first quarter.

Fran Wolf hit for a jump shot and a free throw for Hilbert at 7:47 in the second period to make it 21-20. FVL came back on Alan Olson's free throw and a jump shot by Lee Kiepe.

Wolf countered for Hilbert with a lay-up as did FVL's Kiepe to make it 26-22. Federwitz then scored on a lay-up and Wolf stole the ball and also scored.

Lawrence University and St. Norbert College of DePere will meet in the championship game of the Lawrence Holiday Basketball Tournament at Alexander Gymnasium tonight. Lawrence gained the finals with a 75-70 victory over Milton College in Tuesday night's opening round while St. Norbert rolled to a 102-71 triumph over Northland College.

LaCrosse Wins Tourney Title

Ripon 'S' Loses Consolation Tilt; Beloit Triumphs

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

La Crosse State's undefeated Indians reigned as undisputed leader of Wisconsin small college basketball today after posting their eighth victory and winning their holiday tournament a third straight year.

La Crosse, Wisconsin's only unbeaten college team, broke through a tight Eastern Illinois defense for a 65-60 victory Tuesday night after the University of Minnesota - Duluth captured consolation honors by routing Ripon 82-68 in the fourth annual tournament held by the Indians.

At Appleton, host Lawrence defeated Milton 75 - 70 and St. Norbert crushed Northland 102-71 in opening round games of a two-day tournament.

Wisconsin teams moved out of state for other holiday tournaments.

At Northfield, Minn., Beloit whipped Carroll 77-59 for the right to meet Winona State, which defeated host Carleton 84-79.

Carthage edged Loras 68 - 66 for the right to meet Iowa Central, a 61-51 victor over host St. Ambrose at Davenport, Iowa.

Travels Far
And River Falls, a member of the State University Conference, traveled far to bounce McKendree 91 - 80 at Wayne, Neb. River Falls will shoot for the tournament championship tonight against host Wayne, which defeated South Dakota Tech 78-52.

Minnesota-Duluth surged to a 45-38 halftime lead and breezed to its sixth victory in eight games as Roger Hanson scored 23 points and Mike Patterson 21. Ripon, the defending Midwest Conference champion struggling along with a 2 - 5 record, was led by Jim Cahoon with 21 points and Paul Noel with 19.

In a revolving tournament, at Carleton this year, Beloit launched defense of its title by upsetting Carroll. Beloit, which has a 2 - 1 over - all record, streaked to a 42 - 30 halftime lead in earning a finalist berth against Winona State.

Beloit's Bob Rudolph and Carroll's Irie Grant shared scoring honors with 20 points each. Carroll, now holding a 4-3 record, will meet Carleton in a consolation game before the tournament title showdown.

Colts' Miller Has Duodenal Ulcer

CHARLES TOWN, W.Va. (AP) — Fred Miller, defensive tackle for the Baltimore Colts, was hospitalized Monday for a bleeding duodenal ulcer.

Dr. Jules Langlet, who was treating the 24-year-old lineman at Charles Town Hospital, said Miller's condition was satisfactory. Dr. Langlet said Miller would be in the hospital for several days.

He said the bleeding had no relation to Sunday's National Football League championship game in Cleveland.

'Bama's Joe Namath Offered $389,000 to Sign With AFL's Jets

Georgia Tackle Signs Contracts in Both Leagues

BY MIKE RATHET

Alabama quarterback Joe Namath has been offered $389,000 to sign with the New York Jets of the American Football League.

The astounding offer to Namath, a major target in the multi-million dollar pro football signing war between the National and American Football leagues, was revealed to The Associated Press Tuesday in Miami by sources close to Namath and the Jets.

At the same time, another passing whiz, Tulsa's Jerry Rhone, signed with Dallas of the NFL although he was offered more money by the AFL's Houston Oilers.

And Georgia's All-American tackle, Jim Wilson, wound up with two contracts — one from each league.

All three cases bore the mark of the highest bidding war in pro football history — hard to believe.

First there was the offer made to Namath for $100,000 a year for three years plus a new limousine and other bonuses totaling in the neighborhood of $89,000. That would make the son of a Beaver Falls, Pa., gas station attendant the highest priced rookie ever.

Could that really be the price was the first question posed? "More Than That," said a spokesman for the St. Louis Cardinals, who asked not to be identified.

"We'll pay more to get him than has ever been paid for a rookie," admitted Coach Weeb Ewbank of the Jets. "We expect to get him."

Namath's signing — expected to be announced this weekend after Alabama meets Texas in the Orange Bowl game Friday night—would give the AFL a 3-2 edge over the rival NFL in signing competitive first-round draft choices.

Each league currently has signed two players drafted on the first round by both leagues with Namath the last one to be accounted for.

Of the others picked by both leagues as first-round choices Tennessee tackle Steve DeLong and Baylor receiver Larry Elkins signed with San Diego and Houston, respectively, in the AFL. The NFL's two picks were Kansas halfback Gale Sayers, who signed with Chicago, and Indiana halfback Tom Nowatzke, who decided to join the Lions.

NFL Leads
The National League, however, leads in, over-all first-round selections with nine of its 14 first-round selections signed and only three lost to the AFL. The American League, on the other hand, has signed four of eight top picks but lost three to the NFL.

Rhone was a future pick in both leagues and had been traded to Houston by the Jets in turn for the rights to Namath. Rhone said the Oilers had offered him more money but "I want to play in the National Football League, which is stronger than the AFL."

His signing came after the Chicago Bears Sign Piccolo as Free Agent

Vikes, Knights Duel for Title

Wake Forest Star Surprised When Overlooked in Draft

CHICAGO (AP) — This is the strange story of how the nation's top collegiate ball-carrier and scorer, fullback Brian Piccolo of Wake Forest, was ignored in the pro football drafting of some 450 collegiate stars of 1964.

Piccolo, an affable newlywed, was signed as a free agent Tuesday by the Chicago Bears of the National Football League after a rare case of pro football oversight — not to mention overcaution.

Owner-coach George Halas of the Bears, conducting an unprecedented press party to sign an undrafted player, said almost incredible circumstances prevailed in the Piccolo case.

Piccolo, accompanied at the signing by Joy, his pert, brunette bride of three days, was mystified that the 14 NFL teams and eight AFL clubs skipped him in 20 picking rounds.

"I wasn't only greatly surprised nobody drafted me," said Piccolo, 21, from Fort Lauderdale, Fla. "It also was a solid blow to my pride. In my college career, I never was hurt and fumbled once in over 400 carries. I really wanted a pro try."

The 200-pound Wake Forest star topped major college rushers with 1,044 yards and led nationally in scoring with 111 points on 17 touchdowns and nine extra points.

How could such a standout performer be lost in the drafting shuffle?

"Maybe, quipped Piccolo, 'They (NFL) hid me so good, nobody found me.' He referred to being chaperoned by a NFL "baby sitter," a Florida agent assigned by the league to insulate him from the AFL during the Nov. 28 draft by both leagues.

Weight Slippage

Halas thought a weight slippage — Piccolo dropped from a normal 205 to 195 pounds during Wake Forest's 10-game season, in which he averaged 25 carries — made the pro talent scouts shy away.

"The pros just didn't ponder on a 195-pound fullback, but Piccolo is a growing boy and may play for us at between 205 and 210 next fall," said Halas.

Whatever the reason, Piccolo was a pro football wallflower until assistant Bear coach, Phil Handler, began mulling over Piccolo's statistics and phoned the Wake Forest ace after the draft to put in a Bear bid.

Piccolo recalled that, prior to the NFL draft, Coach Vince Lombardi of the Green Bay Packers wrote him a letter saying Piccolo was on the Packers' preferential list. But the Packers didn't draft him.

The Bears thus may have matched the Ron Vanderkelen case of three years ago when the Wisconsin Rose Bowl sensation caught the NFL with its draft completely down the Minnesota Vikings, finally grabbed Vandy as a free agent for a fine understudy to Fran Tarkenton.

AHS Jayvees Seek to Keep League Lead

APPLETON — The Appleton High School junior varsity basketball team will strive to protect its Fox Valley JV Conference lead tonight in Oshkosh.

The Junior Terrors, who have won five straight conference games, will tangle with the Oshkosh JVs, who have won three out of five. AHS leads Manitowish by one game.

Hawks Record 122-104 Win

Richie Guerin's Debut Successful; Pettit Sets Pace

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Coach Richie Guerin of the St. Louis Hawks could almost be heard yawning on the bench Tuesday night: "It's a snap. There's nothing to this coaching."

All he had to do was sit back and watch his Hawks race away from the San Francisco Warriors, 122-104, with a run-and-gun offense that must have pleased Ben Kerner, owner of the National Basketball Association club.

The game was the first for the Hawks under Guerin, who took over the club Monday when Kerner fired Harry Gallatin.

"It was a perfect game as far as I was concerned," Guerin said. "They made coaching easy. Everyone did the job."

"The only changes we made were to add a couple new plays and also adjust our fast break. I believe we have the personnel to run a lot and I think you get more shots when you run."

The Hawks outbounded the taller Warriors, 78-68 and got off 111 shots to less than 100 for the West Coast club.

Of course, the biggest change in the evening for the Hawks was the return of Bob Pettit, who played his first game in three weeks since suffering a back injury. Pettit played only 24 minutes, but drilled in 28 points as St. Louis took a large early lead and never let up.

Only Wilt Chamberlain, with 35 points, gave the Hawks any trouble and he hit most of his markers after the Hawks raced away.

No other games were scheduled Tuesday night in the NBA.

OSU, Michigan in Top Shape for Rose Bowl

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Michigan and Oregon State could well be two of the healthiest teams ever to play in the Rose Bowl.

Oregon State, the West Coast representative and underdog, has had seven players sidelined for a time because of the flu. All are expected to be ready for Friday's game.

The only "casualty" for Michigan has been a tackle who lost a contact lens during a contact scrimmage early last week.

One other Michigan player turned his ankle in the soft turf Monday but didn't miss a practice as the Wolverines began to taper off drills in preparation for the game.

This marks the fourth time Michigan will play in the Rose Bowl.

Escaped Injury

Back in 1947, the Wolverines escaped injury through their pre-game drills until the final scrimmage session. Halfback Bob Chappuis pulled a leg muscle in that workout and the injury gave Michigan coaches a few tense moments.

But Chappuis recovered in time and led the Wolverines in a 49-0 trouncing of Southern California on that New Year's Day, 1948, and was named the game's outstanding player.

Michigan has been hard hit by injuries through the 1964 season. Most serious were those suffered by defense halfback John Rowser and back Jack Clancy. Both were starters last year and missed the entire 1964 campaign after injuries in pre-season drills.

Sophomore quarterback Dick Vidmar suffered a broken leg and also sat out the season.

Oregon State has been fortunate in that it has not lost a player for more than one game during the season.

40 Uncommitted In Halleck-Ford Leadership Fight

GOP House Members to Hold an Election Monday

WASHINGTON (AP) — An estimated 30 to 40 members who have declined to commit themselves seemed likely today to hold the balance of power in the fight between Reps. Charles A. Halleck on Indiana and Gerald R. Ford of Michigan for the House GOP leadership.

They may take sides between now and next Monday morning

Letters Stress Frustration in Viet Nam War

People Indifferent, Slain GI Wrote To His Mother

PLEASANT HILL, Mo. (AP) — A grieving mother told of her dead soldier son's letters to her in which he described the futility of the war in Viet Nam.

"If his death would help in any way then I could see meaning," said Ruth A. Patterson. "but I haven't been shown yet what it meant."

She returned Tuesday from burying Staff Sgt. Earl A. Patterson, 34, in Tionesta, Pa., where he leaves a wife and three children. He was killed Dec. 13 in South Viet Nam.

"Earl said in his letters it could go on 20 years," Mrs. Patterson said.

People Indifferent

She read from one of them: "The attitude of the people is that they couldn't care less. All they want to do is eat, sleep and let the world go by at its own speed."

Patterson, a 17-year Army veteran, was killed from ambush by Viet Cong about 300 miles north of Saigon. He had gone to the front lines around Oct. 15. His father, Arleigh Patterson, died Oct. 25, and it was several days before the sergeant heard of his father's death.

His mother read from another of his letters: "This war is for the birds. And I'm no bird. But if it is up to the United States to stop the Communist tidal wave, let's get the show on the road."

Roosevelt Seeks To End All Aid To UAR's Nasser

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Rep. James Roosevelt, D-Calif., says he has asked President Johnson to cut off all aid to the United Arab Republic.

Roosevelt told newsmen Tuesday he had informed the President in a letter that the United States has no alternative after the "insulting" speech made in Port Said last week by U.A.R. President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

The two nations, said Roosevelt, "are on opposite sides of almost every issue and at every international intersection."

"If we continue to aid the U.A.R. without condition and qualification, we shall be strengthening an ambitious military dictatorship which is determined to weaken us, which heckles and harasses our policy, which weakens our friends and allies," Roosevelt said.

Federal Jury To Consider New Evidence

U. S. Seeking to Indict 21 Men in Civil Rights Deaths

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — A federal grand jury reconvenes Jan. 11 to consider Mississippi's case of the three slain civil rights workers — including

Final Riddle

The Wednesday Morning Club members plan a final huddle, perhaps as late as Sunday.

Whoever is elected floor leader will have much to say about three other leadership positions — party whip, conference chairman and policy committee chairman.

Democrats have no leadership contests in the House.

Of major concern to the 295 Democrats is the campaign of an estimated 100 liberals and moderates known as the Study Group to liberalize house rules and purge two Southern Democrats — Reps. John Bell Williams of Mississippi and Albert W. Watson of North Carolina.

Sen. Barry Goldwater, who headed the GOP ticket in the November elections.

Rep. John A. Blatnik of Minnesota, chairman of the Study Group, conferred Tuesday with Speaker John W. McCormack but no final agreements were reached and more conferences are scheduled for later in the week.

McCormack already has endorsed one of the major proposals of Blatnik's group. That would limit to 21 days the time the Rules Committee could delay a House vote on bills approved by other committees.

Man Convicted of Manslaughter and Freed From Prison

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Johnny Lee Williams pleaded guilty to a charge of manslaughter Tuesday and walked out of the Jackson County Circuit Court a free man.

Williams, 23, had been charged in the fatal stabbing of Howard Abrought, also 23, last Feb. 28, and was convicted on the testimony of detective Verda Reynolds.

A new trial was granted later, but detective Reynolds had died and a witness who said he had seen the stabbing was himself convicted.

Upon Williams' plea of guilty, Judge Richard Koenigsdorf sentenced him to 9 months and 16 days, the time he had spent in jail.

The federal charge against 19 of the men was conspiracy to interfere with the federal rights of the slain trio. The other two were charged as accessories after the fact.

Murder is a state charge and not within the federal government's power in the case. The state has made no move to file charges.

The victims were Michael Schwerner, 24, and Andrew Goodman, 20, both white New Yorkers, and James Chaney, 21, a Meridian Negro.

The FBI said the Ku Klux Klan plotted the killings. The investigation of the case was one of the most massive efforts in FBI history.

Cited as Inefficient

County Police Oppose State Patrol Increase As Accident Solution

MADISON (AP) — The Wisconsin County Traffic Police Association offered the only opposition Tuesday to a proposal to almost double the size of the State Traffic Patrol.

Capt. Leo T. Flaherty of the Fond du Lac County Traffic Department said his association feels the proposal is neither an efficient nor economical way of attacking the state's mounting highway death toll.

"If extra police enforcement is needed, it should come at the county level," Flaherty told the Legislative Council's Highway Safety Committee.

Patrol Increases

Motor Vehicle Commissioner James Karns recommended the State Patrol be increased by 215 men and suggested a $4 boost in automobile license fees to finance the expansion. The State Patrol has had 250 officers since 1955. Karns said raising the au-

Issued Call

Judge Harold Cox of Jackson issued the call Tuesday for the grand jury to reconvene. His order made no mention of the murders.

The Justice Department asked for the grand jury after U.S. Commissioner Esther Carter dismissed charges against 19 of the men at a Meridian hearing.

The commissioner's decision in the hearing, at which the government had only to show "probable cause" for a charge, was termed unprecedented by the Justice Department.

Sheriff Included

The 21 included Sheriff Lawrence Rainey of Neshoba County. His deputy, Cecil Price, was among 10 men the FBI accused of actually conspiring to intercept the three and "assault, shoot and kill them."

The federal charge against 19 of the men was conspiracy to interfere with the federal rights of the slain trio. The other two were charged as accessories after the fact.

Long Journey Ends Quickly

SUN PRAIRIE (AP) — The Donald A. Anderson family of Marshall didn't get very far on the first leg of a long journey to Nigeria.

Four members of the family were hospitalized Tuesday after their car and another auto collided on Highway 19 east of Sun Prairie. None was seriously injured.

Anderson, 43, took a leave as an elementary school supervisor to accept an assignment to work on a teacher education project in northern Nigeria.

He and his wife were driving to Chicago on the first leg of the journey at the time of the collision.

Driver Liability Precedent Could Be Set in Court

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — A case pending in city court could set a precedent on driver liability.

The city is suing Eugene Fatseas for $171.90 damage to a police car which collided with the rear of an automobile which had been stolen from Fatseas.

The city contends Fatseas is liable because he left the keys in his parked car, contrary to a 1947 ordinance, and argues that this was the "proximate cause" of the resulting accident.

Humphrey Not To Ask Added Law on Rights

Suggestions Will Try to Make Act More Effective

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President-elect Hubert H. Humphrey says he plans no recommendations for additional legislation when he reports to President Johnson on proposals to coordinate the administration's civil rights efforts.

Humphrey said he plans to give his report to Johnson this weekend and that it will contain only suggestions on how to make administration actions more effective in the civil rights field.

The vice president-elect, who resigned Tuesday as a senator from Minnesota, said in an interview that he has held a number of conferences on what Johnson calls the antipoverty program.

Proposed Approved

Sauke County Sheriff Mike Spencer, a spokesman for the Wisconsin County Sheriff's and Deputies Association, and Al Thelen, executive secretary of the Wisconsin County Boards Association, gave qualified approval to Karns' proposal. Both organizations have resisted previous efforts to enlarge the State Patrol.

Spencer said his group would support the addition of state officers to patrol interstate highways. Thelen said county boards probably would agree to a limited increase in State Patrol manpower.

Many private agencies, including the Wisconsin Council of Safety and the Wisconsin Division of the American Automobile Association, solidly backed Karns' proposal.

Awaits Messages

He indicated he is moving cautiously in this field until Johnson outlines what he wants in messages to Congress. The President has asked him to serve as a coordinator of both programs.

As a prospective full-time operator for Johnson in several fields, Humphrey's biggest problem at the moment is to find space in the Capitol building from which to carry on his forthcoming duties as presiding officer of the senate.

Lacks Conference Room

Johnson has assigned him a four-room suite in the Executive Office Building next door to the White House. Humphrey has a small suite in the Senate Office Building but as yet he has been unable to wrangle any conference room space in the Capitol. Johnson had several conference rooms there when he was vice president.

Lung Spot Removed

Movie Hero Says He Has Conquered Cancer

BY JAMES BACON

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Movie hero John Wayne, conqueror of two Jims, thousands of movie Indians and Western bad men, says he now has conquered the great killer — cancer.

"Big Duke," 57, once a five-pack-a-day smoker of unfiltered cigarettes, said a recent hospital stay was for removal of a lung malignancy.

The official statement at the time was that an abscess had been removed from his lung.

"I licked the Big C," the all-time movie boxoffice king grinned Tuesday.

"That's what my doctors tell me."

No Lies

"I told them: 'Don't lie to me.' And they know me damn well enough to know they hadn't better."

"They say they got all of it because they found it early enough."

The always honest Wayne refused to abide by the Hollywood code that cancer or any other serious illness could destroy a box office image. But he doesn't smoke anymore.

Wayne returns to work Jan. 4 in Durango, Mexico, on "The Sons of Katie Elder."

In Good Shape

"You know I'm in good shape because this is a typical John Wayne Western with lots of rugged action. I never got famous making drawing room comedies."

Wayne entered Good Samaritan Hospital in Los Angeles Sept. 16 for what was then described as an old ankle injury. A few days later it was disclosed that he was being treated for an abscess in one lung. The surgery was performed and Wayne recuperated aboard his yacht.

Upon leaving the hospital, Wayne was asked if he had cancer.

"I guess not," was the reply.

Man Travels From Car Lot to Car Lot ... in Stolen Cars

CLOVIS, N.M. (AP) — A man dressed in Western hat and boots drove a late model auto to a Clovis used-car lot and took a newer one out for a road test Tuesday.

When he didn't come back, police discovered that the car he had left had been stolen from a lot in Amarillo, Tex.

Amarillo officers found that the car left there had been stolen from a lot at Lubbock, Tex.

Police at Lubbock determined that a car a man left there had been taken off a lot at Hobbs, N.M.

Hobbs police were trying to find out where the car left there had come from.

BY MALCOLM W. BROWNE
SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Government forces recaptured the district capital of Binh Nghia today, but the Viet Cong captured two U.S. enlisted men and wiped out nearly two companies of government troops.

Two other U.S. soldiers, members of the Special Forces, were killed Tuesday night in another action 30 miles north of Saigon. Their deaths brought to 241 the number of Americans killed in combat since December 1961.

Thirteen Americans now are missing.

Six U.S. servicemen also were wounded in the three-day battle for Binh Nghia, 40 miles east of Saigon. Fighting still flickered Wednesday evening, but the Viet Cong was believed to have made its final onslaught on the town.

At the peak of the fighting some 1,200 government troops

faced about the same number of Communists, making it one of the largest engagements in Viet Nam in the past four years.

Three U.S. helicopters were shot down Tuesday. The town, jammed with 8,000 Roman Catholic refugees from Communist North Viet Nam, was occupied by the Viet Cong on Dec. 5 but government forces drove them out.

A powerful Viet Cong unit overran Binh Nghia Monday. Two government Ranger companies tried to re-enter the town but were driven off.

New Coup Rumored

A government battalion of 500 men was flown in by helicopter Tuesday but also was repelled. In preparation for the massive assault today, planes dropped flares all night while fighters strafed and bombed Communist positions.

Sen. Russell Wants Survey On S. Viet Nam

Popular Support Needed to Win, Georgian Asserts

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Richard B. Russell says he wants a re-evaluation of the U.S. position in South Viet Nam. The Senate Armed Services Committee which he heads will examine the Viet Nam and Congo situations early in the new session of Congress.

Sen. Russell

"I thought we made a terrible mistake getting involved in Viet Nam," the Georgia Democrat said in an interview.

$1.5 Million Daily

"I don't know just how we can get out now, but the time is about at hand when we must re-evaluate our position," Russell said.

"We cannot support the present regime in Saigon unless they are able to attract popular support out in the rice paddies and the villages.

"This has been very expensive in both manpower and equipment. It is costing us $1.5 million every day. A good many Americans have lost their lives."

Russell said the United States could not be "saving those who are a little bit indifferent to their own salvation."

Plans Detailed Study
Russell, a 30-year veteran of military affairs, said he was not "impressed by proposals to bomb these jungle trails."

He referred to recent proposals from some sources that supply lines for the Communist Viet Cong be bombed. He said it

U. S. Post Seen for Former Governor Of Tennessee

name former Tennessee Gov. Buford Ellington as secretary or undersecretary of agriculture.

Some sources said Ellington may be named to a high advisory post at the White House. The Federal Bureau of Investigation reportedly was making a check on him of the type that is routine for possible appointees to high government posts.

Ellington returned to Tennessee Tuesday night after visiting Johnson at his Texas ranch. He said he usually makes such a visit during the holidays. In reply to a question, he said he had no plans to leave Tennessee at this time.

Source said the Pope agreed to consider the invitation.

Deegan himself declined to give details on the audience, but said the Pope "seemed receptive."

"I am hopeful," Deegan added.

Earlier Than Moon Landing

BY FRANK CAREY

MONTREAL (AP) — An American cancer specialist forecasts that final breakthroughs toward controlling cancer by vaccines and miraculous curative drugs will be achieved "quicker than we'll get to the moon" — perhaps soon after 1970.

Dr. Jacob Gershon-Cohen of Philadelphia said he based that prediction on his confidence that by that time:

1. Final proof will have been established that many, if not most, cancers are caused by viruses; and 2. Further development will have been made on recent discoveries in understanding the structure of the basic core of all viruses — specifically, the nucleic acids DNA and RNA.

He said these discoveries are "probably more significant, if less appreciated" by the public,

than the unlocking of atomic energy."

Gershon-Cohen, a radiologist of the Albert Einstein Medical Center, spoke at a news conference prior to acting as chairman today of a symposium on viruses and cancer at the 131st meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Gershon-Cohen also told news-

Body Temperatures

1. Achievement of better control over ordinary viruses — including those of the common cold — may help reduce the danger of getting cancer. It is possible some such viruses may be insidious helpers of cancer-causers, or even cancer-causers themselves.

2. The day will come when the taking of the temperature of specific areas of the body with

Accused of Murder in Service Station Killing

FOND DU LAC (AP) — Dist. Judge Hazen W. McEsey later today on charges of murder and armed robbery.

The blond, 6-foot-3, 225-pound Scarrah, was being held in the Burlington jail, some 90 miles south of Fond du Lac. He was arrested at a bus station in Burlington several hours after the body of 20-year-old Richard Sigler, the father of a young daughter, was found in the washroom of the Clark service station, on U.S. 41, nine miles south of Fond du Lac, where he worked.

Hundreds of Reds Seized by Indian Police

Shastri Regime Accuses Them of Being Fifth Column

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Police arrested hundreds of Communists in raids across India before dawn today.

Communist headquarters in New Delhi claimed more than 1,000 party members were seized.

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Hundreds of Communists throughout India were arrested before dawn today.

Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri's government said the Reds had been "preparing for violence" and "acting as a fifth column" — apparently meaning they had been working for Communist China.

The government, which faces a close election contest with the Communists in Kerala State, hauled Red leaders out of bed in closely coordinated raids all across the country.

The leader of the pro-Chinese Communist party, E.M.S. Namboodiripad, accused the government of paying the way for the elections in Kerala Feb. 15.

Reds Strong in Kerala

Top officials in Shastri's governing Congress party have said privately in recent weeks that the prime minister had little chance of defeating the Communists in Kerala, a politically turbulent state chronically hit by critical food shortages.

Indonesian Wants Jet Planes From Czechs

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Indonesia plans to seek jet training planes next year from Communist Czechoslovakia because the United States won't sell it spare parts for the American-made trainers its air force is using.

The official news agency Antara said the air force commander in chief, Marshal Omar Dani, said the United States has refused to sell Indonesia replacement parts.

Court Order Halts Railway Walkout

Trains Get Back to Normal Service on Southern Road

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Southern Railway system got rolling again today as pickets pulled out under a court order calling off Tuesday's quickie strike of firemen.

Typical was the activity at Washington's Union Station and in the sprawling Potomac yards just across the river in Virginia where some 1,700 freight cars jammed up for lack of crews.

A spokesman at the passenger terminal said everything was back to normal when the Southern's Tennesseean moved out on time for Memphis, Tenn., at 8 a.m. The first passenger run from the south was due at 6 p.m. from Atlanta, Ga.

Firemen Return

The Potomac yard had been a beehive since shortly after midnight when the regular crew came on duty.

The picture was much the same over the rest of the 8,100-mile system serving the District of Columbia and 13 states.

An example was Birmingham, Ala., where a Southern spokesman said firemen had returned to work and pickets had been removed from Terminal Station, scene near the channel entrance, Matson said.

Luxury Liner Runs Aground in Pacific

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Matson Navigation Co. luxury liner Monterey went aground off the island of Bora Bora in the South Pacific Tuesday, the company said.

The 21,000-ton ship apparently was not damaged, Matson said, and its 320 passengers were taken on to Bora Bora on launches, a regular part of the tour.

The passenger ship, which left San Francisco Dec. 20 on a six-week cruise of the South Pacific, probably will be freed by a tug based at the grounding removed from Terminal Station, scene near the channel entrance, Matson said.

Writ Issued

A spokesman for the railway in Atlanta, Ga., said firemen began returning to work on the early shift.

The principal injunction against the walkout was issued

Scientist and Family Meet After 19 Years

HONG KONG (AP) — American scientist Dr. Yang Chen-ning and his family from Red China broke into tears of joy and gratitude when they met here for the first time in 19 years.

"It is impossible to describe the joy that shone through the tears," a friend said today of the professor from the Institute of Advanced Studies at Princeton, N. J., who shared the 1957 Nobel Prize for physics.

"I had to turn away. It was too private for even a friend to watch. And I found that I too was crying."

Reunited at Station

Yang, his retired professor father, his mother and his younger brother and sister met at the Hong Kong terminal station of the railway line to the Red China border 20 miles away.

"That was Dec. 19," the friend said, "and the five have hardly been out of each other's sight since that time. It was a wonderful Christmas for all of them."

It was the first revelation that Yang and his family had spent Christmas together in Hong Kong. Previously it had been reported that Yang arrived Dec. 28 and that his family had arrived Dec. 29.

Hong Kong police threw a tight security screen around the family. Yang came here for a lecture at Hong Kong Chinese University. His father, Dr. Yang Ke-chuan, had been professor at the Tsing Hau University in Peking.

The official news agency Antara said the air force commander in chief, Marshal Omar Dani, said the United States has refused to sell Indonesia replacement parts.

Flood Emergency Over

15,000 Homeless Families in 5 States Digging Out of Debris

BY LEONARD W. PRICE

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Far West's "flood of a thousand years" entered the recovery stage today as 15,000 homeless families and hundreds of stricken farms and businesses dug out from nature's $1-billion blow.

"As far as the real emergency — that's over, right now," said Jim Morrison, Civil Defense spokesman at Eureka, Calif., in hard-hit Humboldt County.

Outlook Brightens

The report was identical in the five flood-distressed states of California, Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Nevada.

Helicopters and jeeps brought the first outside food supplies in a week Tuesday to the last known isolated pocket — 500 persons stranded in lumbering villages west of Yreka, Calif., near the Oregon border.

"Everything's beginning to look a lot rosier," reported Bill Sow, Yreka Civil Defense chief.

"They're getting back down into the towns now and starting to dig out," said Morrison. "No more people want to be evacuated. They want to be sustained where they are."

The flood, described by Department of Interior water specialists as probably the greatest ever experienced in the West, caused 19 known deaths in California and 18 in Oregon.

It carved federal designated disaster areas out of Northern California, Oregon and Washington, where federal, local and charitable organizations are running emergency recovery centers on a "for-the-duration" basis.

California's damage was estimated at upwards of $500,000,000.

In Oregon, many evacuees returned to devastation left by the Willamette River. Oregon's damage totaled $315 million in what Gov. Mark Hatfield terms his state's worst disaster.

At Reedsport, an estimated 1,500 persons were still receiving aid.

clothing and food from volunteer centers and the Red Cross. Several dozen homeless were bedded down at the Independence, Ore., city hall.

In Washington, latest state to be added to the disaster list by President Johnson, most high water problems have ended. No persons are known to be stranded.

The Yakima River in central Washington posed a potential threat because of two huge ice jams, one a mile long and the other three miles in length. Many passes in the Cascade Mountains remained closed by snow slides.

Snow and Cold

Washington estimated its damage as $7 million.

In Idaho and Nevada, snow or cold weather prevailed, replacing flood conditions unusual for those areas. Rivers neared normal levels.

Idaho estimated damage as $6 million. Nevada officials ventured no dollar estimate of damage.

Sun sets at 4:23 p.m., rises Thursday at 7:29 a.m. New moon Saturday.

No Trial by U.S. for 6 Alleged Klansmen

Lacks Jurisdiction, Judge Says, But Government May Appeal

MACON, Ga. (AP) — The federal government, stymied in efforts to try six alleged Ku Klux Klansmen charged with conspiring to oppress Negroes, may appeal the ruling of a district judge to the U.S. Supreme Court.

U.S. Dist. Judge W. A. Bootle dismissed federal conspiracy indictments against the six Tuesday. The federal charges were brought after two of the six were acquitted in a state court in the shotgun slaying of Lemuel Penn, Washington, D.C. Negro educator.

Bootle's ruling said enforcement of general criminal laws is a local matter. He referred to the state acquittal of murder charges for two of the six and said it is important that the federal court "not usurp jurisdiction where it has none."

Penn, a lieutenant colonel in the Army Reserve, was hit by shotgun blasts fired from a passing car in early morning darkness July 11. He was returning to Washington with two other Negro officers after two weeks of active duty at Ft. Benning, Ga.

Accused of Conspiracy

Cecil Myers and Joseph Howard Sims were acquitted of murder charges in the Penn slaying in a state court trial at Danielsville Sept. 4.

Pope Invited to New York Fair

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI was formally invited today to New York next summer to attend the World's Fair.

The invitation was presented to the Roman Catholic pontiff by Thomas J. Deegan Jr., chairman of the fair executive committee, during a Vatican audience.

World's Fair President Robert Moses, Deegan and other members of the committee signed the invitation.

Source said the Pope agreed to consider the invitation.

Deegan himself declined to give details on the audience, but said the Pope "seemed receptive."

"I am hopeful," Deegan added.

Man Shot to Death, Woman Wounded in Milwaukee Tavern

MILWAUKEE (AP) — A man was shot to death and a woman seriously wounded early today at the Band Box, a near West Side tavern.

Leo Heller, 56, was dead on arrival at County Emergency Hospital. Shirley Patrick, 32, was reported in serious condition. Both are from Milwaukee.

The detective bureau and the medical examiner's office said the man apparently shot the woman in a "fit of jealousy" and then turned the gun on himself.

A bartender said the couple had been drinking together at the bar for about 1½ hours before the shooting erupted.

Communist China Hails Military Power

TOKYO (AP) — Red China claimed today its army, bolstered by new technical equipment and cleansed of the "bourgeois military line," is stronger than ever before.

Excerpts from Lo's speech, published by the New China News Agency, gave no details of the new equipment.

Builders Balk At Proposed Appleton Code

Claim Licensing Not Necessary for Dwelling Contractors

Representatives of Valley Home Builders Association took exception Monday night to some of the requirements in the proposed new Appleton building codes and regulations.

They expressed their views during a meeting of the city council welfare-ordinance committee in city hall.

The eight local home builders in attendance said they favored the new code for the most part but had some reservations.

After considerable discussion, it was agreed to meet again Monday night in city hall to consider amendments which may be suggested by the builders.

Since 1962 Appleton's new code, scheduled to come before the council Jan. 6, has been in preparation since 1962.

During the past summer a group of citizens, representing various walks of life and businesses, worked as a committee on making recommendations to revise the city's old code which has been in effect since the early 1940's.

The home builders had a representative on the committee.

Coming under heaviest attack from the builders was a proposed addition to chapter 11 of the city code which would license residential building contractors.

Object to Fees

The builders said they were capable of regulating themselves and their industry. They objected to proposed increases in the fees for building, plumbing, heating and other permits.

It was pointed out that Appleton has one of the lowest fee schedules in Wisconsin.

Building Inspector Charles Magnette said he favored an increase in permit fees. Under the present schedule, a building permit for a 1,500-square-foot home costs about $7.50. The cost would be an estimated $17.50 under the new regulations.

The new building code is part of the city's overall reorganization program being done by a Madison firm specializing in municipal law.

The builders insisted they would come under too much regimentation but had no argument with the structural requirements of the new code.

Menominee Town, County Treasurer Files Resignation

Circuit Judge Hears Executive Session to Determine Status

SHAWANO — The resignation of Bruce A. Wilber, Menominee Town and County treasurer, was submitted to the Menominee County Board and accepted at 8:30 p.m. Monday.

An executive session was held in the chambers of Circuit Judge Andrew Parnell here Tuesday morning in an effort to determine Wilber's status as town treasurer.

A county treasurer may be removed by the county board. A town treasurer is removed by a circuit judge under Wisconsin statutes. Menominee, the former Indian reservation, is unique in that the town and county are one and the same and elected officers serve in both capacities.

Wilber's resignation follows a state audit showing a cash shortage of $1,825.05 in county funds and $2,575.64 in town funds between March 20, 1963 and Oct. 7, 1964. Wilber was appointed by former Gov. Gaylord Nelson when the Indian reservation became Wisconsin's

Appleton Sets Parking Ticket Control Plan

Appleton policemen who issue parking tickets after next Friday will have to account for each ticket issued at the end of the day and will have to turn in soiled or mutilated tickets instead of disposing of them.

The new policy for improved control and accounting of each parking ticket will be explained to Appleton police at the police station Wednesday. Policemen are to attend the session on Friday.

Police and meter maids will be issued groups of tickets in numerical sequence of 50 or more. Each group of 50 tickets will be represented on a police department form.

At the end of each day, a policeman will be responsible for entering the automobile license number next to the corresponding ticket number on the ledger sheet.

Police have been warned they will be held accountable for tickets which are lost or misplaced.

However, state auditors are now further checking books in an effort to determine if there are any irregularities beyond the scope of the incomplete cash account audit which set off the resignation proceedings.

Judge Parnell, in a closed session Tuesday morning, pointed out that the removal of a town treasurer by a circuit judge is an executive not a judicial proceeding and did not rule on the legality of Wilber's status as town treasurer.

Louis Cattau, attorney for Wilbur, contended there was no such thing as a town treasurer in this case but stipulated that if town treasurer status were accorded Wilbur, his resignation from the county office would be duplicated with the resignation from the town office. Starting Jan. 4 the county treasurer salary will be $4,200 and the town treasurer's $200.

County-City Police Talks Planned as Result of Burglary

Appleton Department Helped in Break-in Outside Boundaries

BY RAY PY Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Probable policy-type talks between Appleton police officials and Sheriff Calvin Spice are being planned as a result of an incident Monday morning in which sheriff authorities "borrowed" Appleton policemen to help arrest two burglars suspected outside the city limits in Town of Grand Chute.

Appleton Police Chief E. O. Wolff today confirmed he is contacting Spice to set up the discussions to determine policy to be followed in event sheriff authorities have further need of Appleton policemen outside the city limits.

To be most fully explored in the talks, Wolff said, would be liability responsibilities for Appleton policemen injured or killed while on duty outside the city.

Other police officials today hinted Appleton police may be called in "more and more" to the city would be curtailed until the policy is established "unless there is a policeman or some other person in serious danger, and his life is threatened."

Other police officials today hinted Appleton police may be called in "more and more" to the city would be curtailed until the policy is established "unless there is a policeman or some other person in serious danger, and his life is threatened."

Police said Gillis, patrolling on E. Wisconsin Avenue was struck, "hit and run" method of crime, by a car being driven across E. Wisconsin Avenue by Clarence P. Gruentzel, 46, 1516 S. Madison St.

After the impact, witnesses said the car pushed the three-wheel cycle up a driveway and into the metal pole.

In a separate accident, Mrs. Marel Kapitzke, 34, 14 Pleasant View Court, complained of neck injuries after the car she was in found a shortage, but neither the state nor the town and county are alleging that this man took the money," Winter said.

Several other persons had access to the cash box in the treasurer's custody, investigation indicated.

"The town and county have obtained the removal from office of this treasurer, which is what we wanted," Winter said. "Beyond that it's a matter involving the bonding companies."

MADISON — For the first time in its 72-year history, the Village of Iola in western Waupaca County will have a public water supply and distribution system.

The Public Service Commission (PSC) has approved plans for the construction of water facilities following the approval of the village administration's proposal in a recent referendum among village voters.

The system to serve the village which has an estimated population of 960 will represent a capital investment of about $260,000. Financing will be through the sale of water revenue bonds for about $160,000, customer connection charges that will produce about $39,000, assessments varied according to customer consumption, and local government appropriations, according to the plan submitted to the commission.

The commission said it prescribed a rate schedule on the assumption there would be about 294 customers at the end of the third year of operation. The predominantly residential community has considered a public water supply system for several decades. It proposed such a project in the 1930s as work relief, but it did not qualify under national government standards. In 1946, residents voted in favor of sewer and water utilities, but financing was available only for the sewer utility. In 1963 there was an unfavorable vote on a water utility proposal, but when another referendum was ordered last September, the project won by a margin of 296 to 182, one of the largest voter turnouts on record.

Railway Firm Wins PSC Approval to Serve Communities

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Establishment of a permanent highway express transportation service by the Railway Express Co. from Green Bay into northeastern Wisconsin and westward to Ashland has been authorized by the State Public Service Commission.

The commission explained service is needed, and that the express agency will use motor routes because some trains of the Chicago North Western Railway Co. between some of the localities involved, have been discontinued.

Four motor carrier companies opposed the REA application at a recent hearing, but the commission said the proposal was in the public interest because of the showing of need by the shippers and consignees in the areas involved.

Approved Routes

The approved motor routes would be from Green Bay to Wittenberg, from Wittenberg to Monico, from Rhineland to Manitowish, and then to Ashland.

The express company has been providing express service in highway trucks under a temporary certificate issued last summer.

The certificate requires that the service will be limited to express matter.

"No appreciable traffic diversion from other motor carriers will result, in that with the grant of the certificate, the applicant will continue to transport port traffic it formerly had when rail transportation was available and any additional diversion would be no greater than if the rail portion of its operation could have continued," the regulatory agency said.

The certificate requires that the service will be limited to express matter.

New London Tax Notices Being Prepared

Forms Will be Mailed This Week, Treasurer Reports

NEW LONDON — The 2,500 city tax notices will be sent out this week, Treasurer-Assessor George Groher has reported.

The tax notices have been completed and mailing them is all that remains. Included in this year's notice will be a chart showing how the taxpayers' dollar is being spent.

The largest share of the dollar, 59 per cent, is being spent on school needs, 23 cents will go to the city and 18 cents is needed for county and state requirements. The 18 per cent is an average of the needs required by Waupaca and Outagamie County wards.

Waupaca County residents in the first, second, fourth and fifth wards will pay $60.93 per $1,000 valuation with a $5.72 tax credit. Third Ward, Outagamie County, residents will pay $55.61 per $1,000 with $3.62 state credit.

School tax of $35.18 per $1,000 valuation and city tax of $13.90 per $1,000 will be paid by all property owners. State and county taxes paid by the wards will differ.

Waupaca County residents will pay a state tax of 41 cents and county tax of $11.44, while those city residents living in Outagamie will pay 40 cents and $6.13 respectively.

Money to be raised from taxes includes $437,501 for school, $173,007 for city and about $130,000 for state and county taxes.

Motorists Pay Penalties Totaling $272 at Waupaca

WAUPACA—Seven motorists paid penalties totaling $272 when they forfeited or appeared Monday before Municipal Justice George Whalen.

John J. Douglas, 21, route 3, New London, forfeited a $73 bond when he failed to appear in court to answer a charge of inattentive driving. He was arrested Dec. 18 after an 60-day mental examination at accident near Weyauwega.

Estimated $300 damage was done to his car and a mailed Monday in Waupaca County box was knocked down.

Gregory Baravinsky, 62, route 4, Waupaca, pleaded guilty to a charge of driving too fast for conditions and was fined $65 and costs. Baravinsky was arrested Dec. 23 after a one-car accident in the town of Farmington.

Three drivers forfeited $28 each in a 35-per-hour zone. They were Judith E. Hagen, 18, 319 S. Division St., Waupaca; Thomas C. Bodenheimer, 18, route 1, Waupaca; and James R. Merholtz, 23, Hide St., Bear Creek.

Fines of $25 and costs were assessed against Gary R. Nyström, 18, 1036 W. Bell Ave., Appleton, and Albert D. Lehman, 65, Bear Creek, after they pleaded guilty to passing a school bus while it was stopped and had its lights flashing.

Denmark Downs Athletic Club '5' At Chilton, 93-82

CHILTON — A 30-point out-burst by Chilton's Jim Eisner wasn't enough as the Chilton Athletic Club suffered a 93-82 defeat at the hands of Denmark in Eastern Wisconsin Amateur League play Sunday.

Denmark produced a 31-point first quarter and was never in trouble after that.

Skip Schmidtkofer added 26 points to the Chilton cause. Leading the winners was Bob Larson, who had 27 points.

Saturday night Chilton enters the undefeated first place New Holstein team in the last game of the first half of the season.

Cold Delays Sewer Work in New London

Indefinitely Postpone Digging for Utility On County Trunk D

NEW LONDON — Work scheduled to begin on the sanitary sewer mains along County Trunk D has been delayed for two weeks by the cold weather. Director of Public Works Ray Pelishek said.

Work was scheduled to start two weeks ago but sub-zero temperatures delayed it at that time and a cold snap has delayed the work indefinitely.

Pelishek said subgrading on the roadway has been completed and the sanitary sewer will be dug at depths averaging 12 feet from Rolan Street to Becker Road, the south city limits.

Water mains will go in next year and the grading of the project is expected to be done next summer. Blacktopping is not expected to be finished until 1966 Pelishek said.

He said work on the sewer will be done this winter.

Mental Tests Ordered For Man Charged With Attempted Rape

Menominee Shades Manawa In BABA Overtime Contest

The Menominee All-Stars remain undefeated in the Northern Division of the Badger Amateur Baseball Association, but the league leaders had to go into overtime Sunday to keep their perfect record.

Manawa made it rough for the 'Stars' before falling in the extra period, 51-50. Birmamwood walloped White Lake in other league play, 105-85, while the New London at Marion and Hortonville at Bowler contests were postponed.

Menominee knocked Manawa out of a second place tie with Marion, as Marion suffered its second loss. Menominee led after three quarters, but had to come from behind in the last 20 seconds to knot the score and send the tilt into overtime.

Waukau tallied all the points in the extra period to give the All-Stars the win. He tied for game honors with 19 points, as

Alice Connors Leads Chilton Women Bowlers

CHILTON — Alice Connors paced action during Women's League bowling at the Pla Mor Lanes with a 195 game and a 538 series Monday for State Bank.

High game of the evening was Quinn Brandel's 241, part of a 502 series.

Other top scorers included Sally Winkler, 232 game and 518 series; Theresa Rozman, 206; Mary Bloomer, 201 and 524, and Nell Casper, 202.

Bar Operator Denies Minors Were Loitering

Melvin Ludwig, 33, 403½ W. Eighth St., the current agent for Ludwig's Lanes, Freedom, pleaded innocent Tuesday to a charge he allowed minors to loiter in the beer bar. Trial was set for March 17 in Outagamie County Court Branch 2 and Ludwig posted bond of $200.

The charge against Ludwig came after an investigation by Brown and Outagamie County authorities into the accident in which four young people died on Brown County Trunk S near West De Pere early this month.

Sheriff Calvin Spice maintains that two of the young people, both 17, were in the beer bar prior to the accident.

$800 Damage When Car Rams Bridge

NEW LONDON—An accident at 11:45 p.m. Monday resulted in $800 damage when a car driven by Karen M. Buelow, 19, 314 E. Hancock St., struck the Canal Bridge railing on N. Shawano Street (U.S. 45).

City police said the car was traveling south when it hit the right shoulder of the road, and skidded across the highway on a slippery spot.

As the right front of the vehicle struck the bridge, the car spun around from the impact and its right rear hit the bridge. The car skidded about 66 feet in all.

Stock Market In Early Rally

Gold and Other Nonferrous Metals Lead Way Upward

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market rallied strongly early this afternoon, recovering most of its losses of the two previous sessions.

Trading was active. Gold and other nonferrous metals issues led the way. Steels and motors also were strong.

American South African, advancing more than 2 points, and Dome Mining, gaining more than a point, hit new 1964 highs.

Anaconda and International advanced around a point. Jones & Laughlin tacked on half a point while U.S. Steel and Bethlehem were ahead by less fractions.

General Motors and Chrysler added a point or so. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon had climbed 1.1 to 321.7 with industrials up 1.9, rails up .6 and utilities up .4.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials at noon was up 4.98 to 867.16.

The averages were helped by gains of 2 points by Du Pont and a point by Eastman Kodak. Polaroid advanced 3 points and IBM 2.

International Harvester and Schering lost a point. Prices advanced in moderate trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Cheese Summary

MADISON (AP)—The Wisconsin cheddar cheese market was steady this week with movement of current bulk styles mostly of a fair seasonal nature, the Agricultural Marketing Service said today. The weekly summary was issued earlier because of Friday's holiday.

Movement of pre-packaged styles was generally good and offerings of small styles were short to adequate. Supplies of large styles were ample.

The service noted that cold storage holdings in the country for the week ending Dec. 21 declined 1 per cent from the preceding week and 6 per cent from the corresponding week a year ago.

The Swiss cheese market was steady and demand continued good. Demand was better than anticipated in several quarters in view of the holiday period. Volume indicated seasonal production declines. Offerings of grade A blocks were generally adequate. B and C blocks continued short.

Farmer Chokes Rabid Fox That Attacked Him

FRANKLIN, Tenn. (AP) — A farmer, attacked and bitten Tuesday by a fox in a rabies-infested area of middle Tennessee, choked the animal to death with his bare hands.

Eugene White, 40, immediately took the first of a series of antirabies injections.

Williamson County has been one of the epidemic areas for the fox rabies outbreak in Tennessee. State health authorities have identified 382 positive cases of rabid foxes this year.

White said he was gathering corn when he saw the fox racing across a field toward a flock of sheep. When the farmer started for a gun, the fox turned on him.

"He leaped waist high at me, and I ran backwards causing him to miss on his first try," White said. "I kicked and missed him. On the next charge, he grabbed my right ankle steady through my pants. I tried to run backward, kicking at him at the same time, lost my balance and fell on my back."

White said the fox lunged at his throat, but he beat off the attack with a pair of loose work gloves, then got the fox around the throat and choked it to death. He later shot the animal. The fox was turned over to county rabies control officer.

Murderer of Wife's Companion Is Denied Retrial in Waupaca

WAUPACA — County Judge Wendell McHenry today denied a retrial for George Reimers, convicted last April of murdering a companion of his estranged wife.

In his decision, McHenry cited several Supreme Court precedents, but listed no specific reasons for the denial.

Reimers, who has been serving a life sentence for the Nov. 9, 1963, murder of Willis N. Holmes in a cottage west of here, made the plea for a new trial Monday.

Big Tax Boost Expected in Vandebroek

Some Will Pay $23.56 More Than This Year's Rate

VANDEBROEK — Residents of Town of Vandebroek, particularly those in Little Chute School District, can look forward to substantial tax increases in 1965, according to figures released Monday by Edward Bankert, town clerk.

Taxes for all purposes for residents of the Little Chute district amounts to a rate of $56.12 per $1,000 assessment, an increase of $23.56 more than the 1964 tax rate of $32.56 per $1,000. Taxes to be collected in the district, said Bankert, amount to $8,295 for school, $2,137 for tuition and transportation, 36 cents for vocational school purposes and $16,532 for county and state taxes.

School costs amount to a $45.84 per $1,000 rate and state and county taxes $10.28 per $1,000. There are no taxes for township purposes, Bankert said.

School District No. 2 Total taxes to be collected for school purposes in District No. 2 amount to $49,655.15 at a rate of $36.35 per $1,000. Added to this is $10.28 per $1,000 for state and county taxes bringing the rate to $46.61 compared to $38.33 in 1964, an increase of $8.28 per $1,000.

Total assessed value of the district is $1,608,964 of which $1,379,620 is in the Kaukauna district. Equalized value of the township is $4,201,960 of which $3,629,900 is in the Kaukauna district.

Race Speaks For Assistant Intercedes to Free Meerdink on Speeding Conviction

OSHKOSH — Rep-elect John Race, a Fond du Lac Democrat, interceded Tuesday afternoon to get his newly appointed administrative assistant, Russell Meerdink, Oshkosh, released from jail.

Meerdink had been sentenced to five days in jail by Judge James V. Sitter in Winnebago County Court Branch 3 Tuesday morning on a speeding charge. The 13 collections would raise on U.S. 45 for driving 70 miles an hour in a 55 m.p.h. zone.

Race, in appealing for Meerdink's release, said his assistant was needed to help open offices in Washington Monday. The court then changed Meerdink's sentence to $25 and costs.

In invoking the jail sentence, Judge Sitter noted three previous speeding convictions for Meerdink.

Parlor Game, 'Gossip'

Lawrence 'College Bowl' Team Is Topic of Wide, Wild Rumors

BY MARGUERITE SCHUMANN
Of Lawrence University

The old parlor game of gossip—in which a secret is whispered around a circle of people and the mangled fact announced aloud at the end of the game—has a counterpart in the Fox Cities this week.

The Lawrence University College Bowl team, which has caught both local and national fancy for its three wins against Virginia Military Institute, Southwestern College and Russell Sage College, has been the subject of several bits of harrile fiction.

As indications of public interest, the fictions are tributes in themselves. But for the record, here they are:

Rumor One

Rumor One: That Lawrence was being disqualified from further College Bowl competition because of the premature release of the Lawrence-Russell Sage score, which was videotaped six days before it was shown on the network.

Fact: Untrue. Lawrence will face its fourth opponent, Wilson College of Pennsylvania, at 4:30 p.m. Sunday. Appleton's contribution to the Lawrence team, Ralph Whitehead, observed: "Well, the producer just sent me $140 for my plane ticket; that looks to me like we're going."

Rumor Two: That Lawrence

will make its "fourth and last" trip to the College Bowl on Sunday. Fact: The fourth trip will be the last trip only if Lawrence loses. It is possible for a team to make five appearances on the College Bowl before being honorably retired. This has been corroborated by a telephone interview with Coach Dan Arnaud at his home in New York City, as well as the report that more than a dozen teams have gone the full route of five games in the seven seasons the College Bowl has been on the air.

Rumor Three

Rumor Three: That Lawrence will tape its fourth game rather than play it live, and therefore the score will be available Saturday night. Fact: Untrue. According to Coach Dan Arnaud, Sunday's game will be done live. Ralph Whitehead corroborates: "Well, if they're going to tape it, they'll have to do it about 3 o'clock in the morning, because we weren't told to get to New York until Saturday night."

If Lawrence wins its fourth game, it will have a week's layoff before its final contest Jan. 17. The regular College Bowl time is being pre-empted by the network Jan. 10, reportedly for a football game.

AMA Advises At Resolutions Time, Include Health Check

When you get around to making annual New Year's resolutions, the American Medical Association (AMA) advises, for those of us who need them? How long has it been since we had our eyes checked and the prescription changed for spectacles? How long has it been since we made an objective safety survey of our household? Are there piles of trash in the closet, or other fire hazards? Is there a handrail and non-skid carpet on the stairs, and are the stairs well-lighted and clear of toys, clutter and other debris? Are household cleansers, chemicals, medical supplies kept in tight containers, out of the reach of children? Is there someone in the family with a chronic ailment such as diabetes, epilepsy, arthritis, who hasn't been back recently for a checkup? This list of questions could go on for several pages. They are simple, basic questions, but they can be of vital importance to safe-guarding the health of your family, according to AMA.

Most of these questions you can answer for yourself. If heart to pumping a little more, you're not completely satisfied

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Wisconsin is caught up in a siege of dismal, cloudy but mild weather that gives every indication of continuing into the new year.

Light freezing drizzle mixed with snow was reported at Eau Claire and Ashland today and freezing drizzle was falling at La Crosse. Light drizzle was reported at Lone Rock.

Most of the state received some form of precipitation Tuesday and Tuesday night in the form of rain, snow, sleet, freezing rain and freezing drizzle. Fog also occurred in many areas.

Eau Claire had .21 of an inch of precipitation, Park Falls .13 and Wausau .10.

The snow was confined generally to northern areas.

Early today the coldest place in Wisconsin was Eau Claire with 15 degrees. Superior reported 22, Park Falls and Wausau 23, La Crosse 29, Green Bay 31, Madison and Lone Rock 33 and Milwaukee 35.

McAllen, Tex., topped the country Tuesday with 86 and Havre, Mont., had the low of 25 below zero early today.

Youth Shoots Oshkosh Girl While Hunting

OSHKOSH — A 15-year-old Oshkosh youth, shooting at sparrows with a .22 caliber rifle, accidentally shot and wounded 12-year-old Linda Pagel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pagel, Fond du Lac Road.

The girl is reported in good condition at Mercy Hospital here with a bullet wound behind her right ear. The bullet had been lodged in her skull and was removed at the hospital.

With your answers, or if you are uncertain, then it is time to see your doctor and follow his guidance. And he'll doubtless ask you even more questions, that you wouldn't think about asking yourself.

Natural Instinct in Congo For Contradiction, Anarchy

Communists May Find African Nation Even More Frustrating

BY SAUL PETT
LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — Ironically, one hope of reaching some stability in the Congo and averting another Viet Nam is that the Communists may find it even more frustrating and maddening than the West has.

Thus far, although the mimeograph machines have been busy on both sides, neither East nor West appears heavily committed in this country, which to the visitor, seems to have a natural instinct for anarchy, contradiction and chaos.

The Russians have talked loudly about aiding the Congolese rebels but to date there is little sign they have. African countries such as Algeria, Ghana and the United Arab Republic apparently have sent some material aid but, because of their own economic difficulties, Western sources doubt that they can send much.

Little Effort
The Red Chinese have won considerable mileage on what appears to be little effort — some weapons, money and propaganda. The United States, which supported the central government with a fingers-crossed attitude, now supplies the Congo about $50 million a year in aid, most of it in agricultural surplus. As the cold war goes, this is small.

If the Chinese increase their involvement in the mineral-rich, strategically placed Congo, the United States may be forced to increase its commitment — all of which could quickly escalate into another Viet Nam. The big question, then, is how interested are the Chinese?

"Logistically, another Viet Nam here would be difficult for the Chinese since they would be a long way from home," said one Western diplomat. "Obviously, they don't mind perpetuating turmoil in the Congo but I can't believe that they or any other Communists seriously regard this as their kind of revolution. Communists require a people capable of more political discipline and inflexibility."

Political Discipline
Nothing is so rare as political discipline in the Congo or a politician who is not flexible. Ideology counts for nothing. Civil wars start simply because one group of politicians wants to replace another at the public treasury. Today's irrevocable feud may be tomorrow's irrevocable alliance.

For two years of blood warfare, Moise Tshombe fought the central government with his secessionist movement in Katanga. Now, at its invitation, he heads the central government as its prime minister.

Christopher Gbenya now leads the revolution, apparently from exile. But it was Gbenya who once offered the top spot in the rebellion to Tshombe in exchange for financial support. Tshombe turned him down.

Asked Money
And it was Gbenya who once came to the U.S. Embassy in Leopoldville with a letter asking for money for his movement. But the letter he pulled out of his pocket was addressed to the Soviet ambassador. The mistake was called to his attention. Without dropping an ideological stitch, Gbenya quickly replaced the letter with a similar one addressed to the American ambassador.

Captured documents show that some rebel leaders tried to borrow from the Red Chinese manual of revolution. Thus, to keep the local populace on their side, rebel troops were admonished against stealing from civilians. But this appeared to be no problem for the soldiers of the "Congo People's Republic." They would ask a civilian for his money or jewelry and if he obliged, surely that wasn't stealing? The fact that the request was made at gunpoint seemed irrelevant.

Great Patience
And then there is "l'arrangement a la bantou," which has given fits to Westerners trying to teach Congolese government and is likely to slow down the Chinese, even with their great patience. This is the bantou, or African arrangement, a psychology that almost defies Western understanding.

The Congolese conception of government is not rule but discussion, not action but palaver.

Sen. Russell Wants Survey On S. Viet Nam

would be impossible to judge the results of such bombing.

Russell said that both the Viet Nam and Congo situations will be examined in detail by his Armed Services Committee.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and top military and strategic officials will testify at the closed hearings.

"It would be nothing less than a tragedy for us to go and get involved in the Congo as we are in Viet Nam," Russell said. "That would be a monument to poor statesmanship." He said he hopes President Johnson will avoid any such course.

Russell said several European nations, including Belgium, France, England and the Netherlands have direct interests in the Congo.

"If we let them dump this one on us, we've lost all pretense of statesmanship. If there is one place where we haven't any business now, it's the Congo," Russell said.

In the end it would cost everybody more."

Why doesn't the United States just pull out and save itself the possible agony of another Viet Nam?

"Because the Congo is the heart of Africa and controls the approaches to much of the continent. I don't think the Russians are serious here, they're just keeping an oar in because they're worried more about the Chinese than us."

"And we're more worried about the Chinese than the Russians. They've already bought Burundi, a small neighboring kingdom. They are very active across the river in the other Congo. They are increasing their influence in Tanganyika and are moving into the Sudan. You can't just let a continent as big and important as Africa go by default."

While talking, the American had been trying to reach a member of the Congolese Cabinet by phone. After three tries, he finally got a dial tone. Then he got a busy signal. Then he got the wrong number, none of which is unusual in the chaotic Leopoldville phone system. Finally — and this too is not unusual — he got the right number but the Cabinet member he sought wasn't there and no one seemed to know where he was when or if he would be back.

The American shrugged wearily and lit another cigarette. To Western men, chain-smoking comes easily in the Congo but little else does.

in Columbus, Ga., by U.S. Dist. Judge J. Robert Elliott, but the big Potomac yard, a main gateway of north-south freight traffic, was a special case.

The yard is owned by the Richmond, Fredericksburg & Potomac line and used by four railroads including Southern.

Firemen pickets marched at the gates Tuesday and only about 16 men were reported on hand out of a normal day crew of about 75. Little was reported accomplished after 10 a.m.

Judge Oren R. Lewis in Alexandria, Va., ordered the pickets away in time for the heavy run of traffic, which comes at night when citrus rolls in from Florida.

"I have notified all of our local chairmen to remove the picket lines and terminate the strike of our members as required by the court order," said J. W. Jennings, vice president of the AFL-CIO Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen. Jennings said the union had been served with the restraining order issued Tuesday night in Columbus, Ga., by U.S. Dist. Judge J. Robert Elliott.

The union clamped a sudden strike on Southern's 8,100 miles in 13 states and the District of Columbia early Tuesday when the railroad began to operate some yard and freight engines without firemen.

The line, with 16,000 employees including 1,200 firemen, serves such key cities as Washington, Atlanta, Ga., Birmingham, Ala., New Orleans, La., Memphis, Tenn., Louisville, Ky., Greenville and Columbia, S.C., and Charlotte, N.C. charged by the FBI with conspiring to injure and oppress Negroes. The other four are Denver Willis Phillips, George H. Turner, Herbert Guest and James S. Lackey.

State murder charges are still pending against Lackey. Cleve Johnson, state prosecutor, said Tuesday night he has not decided whether to press the murder charges against Lackey.

A jury freed Myers and Sims of the Penn slaying after deliberating three hours. The state introduced a statement quoting Lackey as having said that he, Sims and Myers spotted the Penn car, followed it and that both Sims and Myers fired shotguns into the car.

Repudiate Statement
Lackey repudiated the statement, declaring he was harassed by the FBI into making it. The defense also produced witnesses who said they saw Sims and Myers at an all night cafe in Athens on July 11 up to 5:20 a.m.

Bootle said the conspiracy charges presented constitutional questions. The federal government, he said, has a speedy remedy through a review by the Supreme Court and the six men can still be tried if the conspiracy indictment is valid.

A Justice Department attorney said the federal conspiracy charge was based both on an 1870 statute and on the newly enacted Civil Rights Act.

U.S. Atty. Floyd Buford plans to confer with Justice Department attorneys in Washington and decide whether to appeal dismissal of the conspiracy indictments.

The arrests were made under catch-all legislation called the "defense of India rules," emergency legislation enacted during 1962 Chinese-Indian border war.

devices based on infra-red detection techniques "will be as important as X-ray" in helping detect ailments.

3. All people may be harboring latent, non-active cancer viruses — with cancer developing only in those people exposed to some triggering action such as excessive radiation, certain chemicals, or some internal disturbance.

"I think we'll get positive results quicker than we'll get to the moon," said Gershon-Cohen. When a reporter said the American space agency has its sights set on a moon landing by 1970, Gershon-Cohen said he expected the cancer breakthroughs would be almost achieved by then.

Study of Viruses

In answer to another question, he said that by then he expected the way would finally be open to perfecting vaccines and curative drugs. He added that it would be only "wild speculation" to hazard a guess on when such vaccines and drugs actually would be developed.

Gershon-Cohen told the news conference: "Of all the experimental avenues of cancer investigation, the study of viruses causing cancer now appears to be the most encouraging. Advances are rapid in this area of research and pose the greatest difficulty to the analysis and assimilation of data."

Already, several viruses which cause various inflammatory reactions in humans have been found to produce cancers in experimental animals.

"Viruses are being more frequently observed in the tissues of patients with leukemia; and to predict the emergence of an experimental design proving human cancer and leukemia to be due to viruses is no longer unreasonable."

"Should this occur, it is natural to further predict eventual trial of vaccines for the prevention of cancer."

"Even more exciting has been the revolutionary elucidation of the chemical-physical structure of DNA and RNA, either one of these nucleic acids being the central core of all viruses."

"Further biochemical studies of nucleic acids could lead to the discovery of means as miraculous for the control of cancer as the antibiotics have proved for the control of infections."

and hit him with the weapon. After that, Scarrah said, he remembers nothing.

Dodge County authorities said Scarrah had served a term in the Green Bay State Reformatory for burglary.

Burlington Police Chief Walter Gabriel said that Scarrah began a statement, then "stopped writing and went berserk."

Sigler, a husky 230 - pounder who lived in Theresa with his wife and 18-month-old child, apparently was clubbed on the head and dragged into the washroom where he was shot. Authorities said he had been shot three times, once in the head and twice in the body.

Sigler's body was found about 5 a.m. by a motorist who stopped for gas. Some $54 was missing from the attendant's money belt.

Carried 3 Pistols

Scarrah was taken into custody as he waited for a bus in Burlington. Gabriel said that Scarrah was carrying a leather bag containing three loaded pistols, boxes of ammunition, a shoulder holster and loose change.

Gabriel said that Scarrah stopped at a Kansasville service station owned by Cliff Wolfe and sold his 1953 model car which had a burned out water pump for $10. Wolfe drove Scarrah to the Burlington bus station.

An attendant at Wolfe's station found a box of shells in the newly - purchased car. Wolfe then called the Racine County sheriff's office, which in turn notified Burlington police. Scarrah was picked up shortly before he was due to board a bus.

Outwardly things appeared peaceful as negotiations continued on the dispute between U.S. authorities and Lt. Gen. Nguyen Khanh, the armed forces chief over military intervention in South Viet Nam's civilian government. But there was widespread fear, apparently based on inside information, that a new and possibly violent plot was about to hatch.

FBI and Police Make Arrest in Tucson Barbershop

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Salvatore (Bill) Bonanno has been ordered to report Jan. 5 before a federal grand jury in New York which is investigating the mysterious disappearance of his father, Cosa Nostra leader Joseph (Joe Bananas) Bonanno.

Salvatore, 32, was getting a haircut at a Tucson motel Tuesday when he was arrested by police and FBI agents. They waited until the barber finished before taking him before U.S. Commissioner Thomas McKay.

He was held under $25,000 bond, pending his appearance in New York. A material witness warrant had been issued in New York last Thursday for Bonanno's arrest.

The younger Bonanno, who had put on considerable weight since police last saw him and appeared to weigh well over 200 pounds, talked affably with newsmen. He refused to answer questions about his father or himself.

The elder Bonanno vanished last Oct. 21, the day he was to appear before the grand jury. He was reported to have been abducted by two unidentified men from in front of the Park Avenue home of his attorney, William Power Maloney, who told police that story.

The younger Bonanno dropped out of sight at about the same time as his father's disappearance. So did a friend of the elder Bonanno, Charles (The Bat) Battaglia.

Battaglia was seen in Tucson Christmas Day and a subpoena was issued for him to appear before the New York jury Jan. 5, but Tucson authorities can't find him.

First Arrest

Salvatore has been arrested in Arizona on several occasions. His first arrest came when a Los Angeles grand jury was investigating the Appalachian, N.Y., meeting of America's top gangsters.

Later he was arrested in Phoenix for writing a bad check for $1,930. He received a three-year probation sentence.

He once owned an Italian import firm in Tucson, and also has managed a Phoenix supper club.

Salvatore is married to the niece of the late Joe Profaci, a Brooklyn gangster.

Attorney Maloney told the New York grand jury that Joe was well and would appear before the jury Dec. 21. But he didn't show up.

Maloney said he got the information from Salvatore.

Democracy or Anarchy

The dangers of uncontrolled democracy in the number of multiple political parties with power far outweighing their numerical strength is once more revealed in the great difficulty the national assembly had in choosing a new president in Italy to replace the resigned Antonio Segni. France and Germany also went through similar struggles in their efforts to avoid the tyranny of one faction but found that tighter regulations were essential.

Foreign Minister Giuseppe Saragat was finally elevated to the presidency, but only after 21 ballots had been cast over a period of 13 days. He is the founder of the Italian Democratic Socialist party, the first Socialist to become Italy's chief of state. And while he is regarded as a friend of the West he had to accept Communist backing to break the deadlock which had paralyzed the government.

Americans, usually mildly surprised to find any other parties on the ballot besides Republicans and Democrats, would probably be totally at a loss to figure out the splinter groups in Italy. In fact it may be that the Italians are having a similar problem.

In electing a president Italy follows a sort of parliamentary system. But there were delegates casting ballots who are listed as Communists, Fascists, Christian Democrats, Democratic Socialists, Republicans, Liberals and Socialists. The official parties are also often broken into wings. The left wing of the Christian Democrats, for instance, is about the same in political aims and approaches as the middle group of Democratic Socialists. Roman Catholics seem to see no inconsistency in voting for Communists. And the names are also misleading. The Liberals are described as rightist conservative. The Neo-Fascists just don't mention Mussolini.

join together in a coalition is that it provides the small splinter groups with influence to barter away the more stable policies of the moderate Italian delegates. And if there is no agreement, the extremist groups—of either the right or the left—are likely to profit. This is the type of hassle that plays directly into the hands of the Communists. It also was largely responsible for Mussolini's emergence as sole authority in pre-war Italy.

While there is a similarity between the current deadlock in Italy and the near collapse in France in 1958, there are also very different pressures. The French were then humiliated by the disastrous defeat in Indo-China and their frustration at no longer being a major world power. The Italians in recent years have managed to work out compromises, even including Communist compromises with the leftist elements of several of the other parties. This was part of the pattern apparently dictated from the Kremlin during Khrushchev's rule but also pushed by Communist leaders in the other countries.

But France found it necessary at last, as did Germany after World War II, to require a certain percentage of members for a political party to have a place on the ballot. And while certainly President de Gaulle now has power far outweighing that of any French leader in many generations—perhaps as far back as to Napoleon, even his intransigence is safer, not only for the French but for the free world, than the inability to do anything at all.

Complete democracy sounds wonderful and can work in such areas as the New England town meeting. But it can also lead to anarchy when the small and relatively unimportant who have nothing much to lose possess more influence than their real size and strength merits.

Art Denney's Gift to Lawrence

When death took Art Denney last week it ended a most useful life. It was unusual in that Art's most important contribution to Lawrence came after his active coaching days were over.

In his early years, Art was a high school coach at Neenah and Appleton before joining the Lawrence staff in 1923. He was with the university until he died. At one time or another he coached cross-country, track and basketball, then became athletic director. And it was while he was in that position that he began to develop the varied intramural and recreational program which he has now left to Lawrence as his endowment. After he retired as athletic director in 1961 he devoted full time to expanding and improving that program.

Art believed that while college enriches the intellectual side of a student's life, it should also offer recreation which the student could continue to pursue in later life. His program went much beyond the normal intramural activities such as touch football or basketball or girls field hockey. It included golf, chess, curling, archery, tennis, bridge, badminton, bowling, table tennis, volleyball, trapshooting, lawn bowling, skiing, camping and even backyard cooking.

In the long history of Lawrence only four faculty members served the institution longer than Art's 41-year tenure. And that tenure will extend on for many more years in the memories of the thousands of students he influenced.

What's Wrong With a Saloon?

In Wisconsin, if you own a saloon, you can call it Joe's Bar, Joe's Tavern, Joe's Lounge, or practically anything you care to call it. Practically anything, that is, except a saloon.

Tom Richards, in Tom Foolery, his weekly column in the Sunday Post-Crescent's View Magazine, has proposed the repeal of the section of Wisconsin law which makes it illegal for a saloon owner to advertise his saloon as a saloon. And, he's gotten legislative support. Assemblyman Harold Froehlich of Appleton has promised to introduce a measure in the next legislature.

Now, all this, indeed, sounds like a lot of tomfoolery—or Tom Foolery. And it is.

It is tomfoolery to think such a law was ever passed in Wisconsin, to think the citizens of the state need protection from a word. They don't, and we who deal in words resent such legislative restrictions on words.

There is another facet of this. The obiteration of the word, saloon, was followed shortly by the disappearance of the facilities the word described, saloons.

Saloons were an American institution. They smelled of beer and pretzels and strong tobacco. There were brass rails, brass cuspidors, and no chairs or stools. They were places where only men went to talk of things men talk about. A saloon was a lot like a barbershop.

But they have gone, and the Wisconsin law prohibiting the use of the word saloon, the only single word accurately describing them, may have been partly responsible. The bars and lounges which have replaced them are of questionable superiority.

That the old-time saloon will ever return is unlikely, but a rebirth of something similar may be possible if a man is permitted to call his establishment a saloon if he chooses.

At any rate, it is none of the legislature's business, and never was in the first place.

Looking Backward

Disagreement Over Fort Fisher

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Motor for Jan. 12, 1865.

There is quite a serious disagreement between Admiral Porter and Gen. Butler respecting the recent attack upon Fort Fisher, the key to Wilmington. It involves the question of the responsibility of the failure.

The points of disagreement are given in a correspondence between the two officers, which Admiral Porter appends to his report of the Wilmington expedition.

In a letter to Admiral Porter, Gen. Butler reports that on landing his troops and making a thorough reconnaissance of Fort Fisher, "both Gen. Weitzel and myself were fully of the opinion that the place could not be carried by assault, as it was left substantially uninjured as a defensive work, by the Navy fire. We found 17 guns protected by traverses—two only of which were dismounted, bearing upon the beach, and covering a strip of land, the only practicable route, not wide enough for a thousand men in line of battle."

Further on General B. says:

"Gen. Weitzel advanced his skirmish line within 50 yards of the fort, while the garrison was kept in their boom proofs by the fire of the Navy, and so closely that three or four men on the picket line ventured upon the parapet and through the Sally port of the works, capturing a horse which they brought off, killing the orderly."

"The orderly was he bearer of a dispatch from the Chief of Artillery of Gen. Whiting to bring a light battery within the fort. The pickets also brought away from the parapet the flag of the fort. This was done while the shells of the Navy were falling about the heads of the daring men who entered the works, and it was evident as soon as the fire of the Navy ceased, because of the darkness, that the fort was fully manned again, and opened with grape and canister upon our picket line."

Believing that nothing but a regular siege would reduce the fort, and in view of the threatening weather making it impossible to land more troops, Gen. Butler ordered his force—about 3,000 strong—to re-embark.

Adm. Porter's reply to this note intimates an opinion that the fort might have been taken, carried by a bold and vigorous dash. He says:

"We have not commenced firing rapidly yet, and could keep any rebels inside from showing their heads until an assaulting column was within 20 yards of the works. I wish some more of your gallant fellows had followed the officer who took the flag from the parapet and the brave fellow who brought the horse out of the fort. I think they would have found it an easier conquest than is supposed. I do not, however, pretend to place my opinion in opposition to Gen. Weitzel, whom I know to be an accomplished soldier and engineer, and whose opinion has great weight with me. I will look out that the troops are off in safety."

There is sufficient difference of opinion expressed to create quite a controversy respecting the responsibilities of the failure. That portion of the press hostile to Gen. Butler will support the view indicated by Adm. Porter, while others warmly defend Butler's conduct. They believe Genls. Butler and Weitzel had better opportunities to judge the propriety of an assault after personal inspection of the works than Adm. Porter, with only a distant view from his gunboat.

'They're the Same People Who Were Giving Me Hell For Driving 90...!'

The J. J. Plank family took honors for the most members present at the Appleton Rotary Club's "Dads and Children" party. The seven members attending the annual event that year included Margaret, and Annette Plank, Mrs. George Theiss, Mrs. Robert Rechner, Mrs. Norman Brown, W. J. Plank, and their father, J. J. Plank.

L. B. Powers acted as the town crier at the Bellaire Court community Christmas festival. Brownies in the Christmas Eve program included Tom Teel, John Landis, Gene Spencer and Harry Whelan. Lamp lighters were Dr. R. V. Landis, V. James Whelan, Dr. E. J. Zeiss, Homer Gebhardt, G. A. Douglas, I. R. Valentine, Rex Spencer and H. F. Hackworthy.

Miss Virginia Fischer was elected president of the Young Ladies Sodality of St. Joseph Church. Other officers named were Miss Adeline Haag, vice president; Miss Ruth Deschler, recording secretary; Miss Ruth Van Handel, treasurer, and Miss Dorothy Schommer, financial secretary.

Earl Haase and Florian Spang deadlocked for high honors of 620 in the Neenah City Bowling League tournament. Haase rolled games of 202 and 222 in his threesome while Spang marked up high 215 and 223 games. Runnerup honors went to Harlan Moran, who scored a 615 series with 202 and 232 top games.

Cpl. Andrew G. Wittman, Menasha High School athlete in his younger years, was chalking up outstanding records with the 504th Field Artillery Battalion stationed at Fort Kobbe, Canal Zone. He was a star in basketball, softball, bowling, track and golf.

Lincoln School Junior Terrors won the fifth grade boys' holiday basketball tournament sponsored by the Appleton recreation department. The champs included Jim Slezak, captain, Jerry Bentle, John Kading, Wayne Trindrud, Dick Harder and Mike Lee.

Mr. Lucius Battle, the American ambassador in Cairo, has done nothing to justify this abuse. The delay in measuring Egypt's new request for surplus food does not reflect any desire to impose harsh terms on the United Arab Republic or to impair its independence. The application is being considered in Washington in precisely the same way that similar applications from other governments have been considered. There has been no discrimination against Cairo, nor will there be any surrender to its demands.

Aid From Both Sides

American officials will make a dangerous mistake if they regard his threats to embrace the Soviet Union as a serious declaration of policy. With unexampled skill President Nasser has managed to receive help from both Moscow and Washington without weakening Cairo's essential freedom of action. Russia has built the Aswan Dam for Egypt and given it military help; America has met Egypt's food deficit. President Nasser has in fact been playing off Russia and America against each other for Egypt's benefit. There is no proof that he is willing to be drawn firmly and finally into dependence on Russia. The State Department can treat these menaces with relative indifference, and concentrate instead on its own massive bargaining weapons. The United States does not need the friendship of Egypt to the same degree that Egypt depends on the friendship of the United States.

The one inexcusable policy, repugnant alike to reason and to honor, would be for the United States to submit in any measure to President Nasser's bullying. This is particularly true in view of President Nasser's condemnation of America's part in saving the hostages in The Congo from slaughter and his continued illegal supply of arms to the Congolese rebels.

Recognizing all the risks, but realizing also that President Nasser is the most resourceful and formidable leader in the Arab world, the United States has decided to make a policy of co-operation with Cairo one of its major aims in the Middle East. That policy will not be abruptly cast aside because President Nasser has made a reckless and insulting speech. But President Nasser has it in his power to open a breach that not all the good will in Washington can close. That is the danger inherent in his present course. Unless he has lost his accustomed judgment, President Nasser will stop before he goes too far.

County Colleges Pose Thorny Problem for Incoming Legislature

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
MADISON — Among the issues in Wisconsin education that the 1965 legislature will probably be unable to push aside is the disposition of the score of county teachers' colleges which can read the handwriting on the wall.

Wyngaard

As far as the professional educational leadership within the state government is concerned, the county schools which were created generations ago to maintain a constant supply of rural school teachers are being "phased out," as the contemporary bureaucracy would call it.

The legislature has already adopted a law which provides that all public school teachers in Wisconsin after 1972 will be required to show a certificate proving four years of professional training. That will make the two year schools obsolete, with respect to their historic function. There are those schoolmen who feel that the four-year training requirement for teachers has already sealed their fate. They may be right.

THE RESISTANCE

But the principals, the staffs, the boards of trustees, the sponsoring county boards, and most of all, the neighborhoods those schools have served over the decades are not ready to see those institutions fade away.

It is one thing to sit in an academic atmosphere at Madison and to announce that the usefulness of an institution has passed. It is quite another to achieve its abolition in the political arena. In human affairs there is nothing as energetic as a public service that is threatened with extinction.

Already legislators and officials of the incoming state administration are feeling the pressure from the communities in which are situated the threatened county colleges.

Some of them report that there is more heat on that issue than on any other involving the complex and difficult task of shaping the educational program to the fluid needs of the times.

The Coordinating Committee for Higher Education, the responsible planning agency in the field of higher education, has handled the situation gingerly.

It has said in effect that those county colleges that are situated in the proper geographical locations can probably be absorbed into the evolving pattern of branch campuses of the state universities, or possibly as local junior colleges, if such a development is authorized.

Some of them have usable buildings and other facilities. Some of them doubtless have facilities that could be absorbed in other systems. Some of them are situated in localities of sufficient population to warrant consideration in the extension programming of the University of Wisconsin and the state universities, and especially if there is a continuing acceptance of the idea that the campus should come to the student, rather than the idea that the student should come to the campus.

POWER

There is a tendency in some quarters to dismiss the county colleges as relatively unimportant. It is evident that they no longer have the functional importance in the total scheme of public education they had during long eras of Wisconsin history.

But it would be a serious mistake for anyone to underestimate their political potency, nevertheless. There is involved here what might be called the rule of political dispersion. Precisely because they are numerous, although small, they are strategically distributed around the state.

That distribution gives them an influence upon members of the legislature and an aggregate of local political leaders that the more important and more proud and bigger state educational institutions do not have. Some accommodation of the interests of the county colleges can be forecast, whatever directions are finally taken in the fast-moving program of higher education.

Strictly Personal

All Mothers May Not Really Want Babies

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

One answer to the population explosion is, of course, more effective birth control methods, and better information about these methods to the people who need it most.

Harris

Another answer, however, that is neglected in most discussions of the subject is the necessity for changing attitudes toward motherhood on the part of many women.

Many women have children through accident or ignorance; but many more have children because it is considered the thing to do, the acceptable role for a wife. They do not want a child as much as they want the idea of a child.

A woman whose heart is not in it should not be encouraged to have children. Yet, while on the one hand we deplore the constant rise in population, on the other hand we somehow seem to suggest that a childless woman is an object of pity or scorn.

Many mothers—too many—did not really want children; this can be seen from the way they handle them. They would like a story-book child: pretty and clean and winsome and obedient, to be put away in a box when the mother is tired of playing with it; not a real child, with a runny nose and torn socks and a sassy tongue and an insatiable desire for attention.

When we talk about the population explosion, most of us are thinking about the under-developed countries in the Far East. Not many know that the rate of population growth in the last decade in the U. S. is greater than that of Japan, and about as large as that of India.

True, we can "afford" children more than they can; but our contribution to the problem of space and food supply for the whole world of the future is as substantial as theirs. Moreover, we have access to birth control information and techniques that are lacking in under-developed lands.

One of the principal reasons we have not availed ourselves of these techniques as fully as possible has been our social emphasis on "babies for all wives." Many women are pressured by this sentimental fiction into having babies they do not really want and cannot really handle.

The emotional consequences to such children, of course, are most damaging. A small child is the most rewarding of creatures if one knows how to love it in the right way, and the most taxing if one does not. The common belief that every woman is "naturally" a good mother is as fallacious as thinking that every piano can make good music.

There are people who should not marry, and there are married couples who should not have children. Contraception is one way to reduce the population swell, but it will not succeed until the only women who have babies are those who want the substance and not just the symbol.

Sports, Politics, Killings Among 10 Best Newsmakers

BY DION HENDERSON
MILWAUKEE (AP) — The election of a Republican as governor of Wisconsin, an event that took place 25 times in the first 20 elections of the 20th Century before a sudden change in the strange tides that govern politics, is the state's top news story of 1964.

The triumph by Warren P. Knowles, who ousted Gov. John W. Reynolds and broke a six-year Democratic hold on the state house despite an overwhelming Democratic victory in the presidential race, was the clear choice of Associated Press newspapers and broadcast news executives in the annual AP poll.

Major News
In a year when politics was a major part of the news nearly every day, political stories figured heavily in the balloting but there was surprising variety among the 10 best stories of the year.

The story that dominated the sports world—decision of the Braves to forsake Milwaukee for Atlanta after one more season—was considered second only to the Knowles' victory in its impact upon the state.

The two stories, drawing 331 and 303 votes respectively, were far ahead of the field in heavy balloting.
Of the top 10 stories picked by the newsmen, five dealt with politics, one with sports, two with bizarre killings, one with a tragic accident and one with a dreadful offense of society against itself — the highway death toll.

High Emotion
The National Farmers Organization livestock withholding action, with its demonstrations and moments of high emotion, led to the almost predictable tragedy that placed third on the list of Wisconsin's top news stories of 1964.

For some five weeks there were scattered disturbances, scuffles, shots from ambush, a reported abduction, and then at for safety officials—and by Dec. 10 the awful compilation reached 1,000 deaths. Newsmen gave the continuing story 176 votes.

A political story which broke earlier in the year, and which by benefit of hindsight could have given pundits a hint of things to come, was part of the April presidential preference primary. With Republicans united behind a favorite son and determined to avoid a clash between major candidates, and Gov. Reynolds running as a stand-in for President Johnson, the traditionally spectacular primary seemed doomed to doldrums. But it lived up to its reputation with the entry of the Democratic governor of Alabama, Southern segregationist George P. Wallace bidding for a show of Northern strength.

Democratic Votes
And although he won no delegates, his gathering up to 30 per cent of all the Democratic votes cast "shook the eyeteeth" of national political leaders, as Wallace himself phrased it, and won for the primary story 167 votes and seventh place among the top news stories of 1964.

Another continuing story, with the practice of politics at its best, was eighth—the failure of former Democratic state committeeman David Rabinovitz to win Senate confirmation as a U.S. District Judge. First nominated by the late President John F. Kennedy, who he had supported early and vigorously, Rabinovitz was named again by President Johnson, and once again had to leave the bench when the Senate refused to act.

Bizarre Conflict
Tied with the Rabinovitz saga was a bizarre conjugal conflict which was climaxed when Donald Dahlke, a soldier returning from Europe, shot his wandering wife to death in Reno, drove the body home to Oshkosh and buried it in a relative's basement.

Rounding out the top ten news stories was the only other crime case—the fatal assault on a Kaukauna school girl, who valiantly sought help and managed to identify her mentally deficient slayer before she died.

Two other spectacular killings in the waning weeks of the year—the shooting of a Platteville University beauty queen by a former student, and the slaying of an Eau Claire attorney by another lawyer—were too late to gather substantial support in the balloting.

And the reported dissolution of the famed Red Arrow Division, as well as the state's 84th Reserve unit, not only was late, remained too confused to assess in late December.

Less Appeal
News stories which drew good vote totals but did not have the statewide appeal of the top ten included, in order:

The long and finally successful search for the airplane which carried Milwaukee auto dealer Les Flaherty and his daughter to their deaths.

The defeat of Wisconsin's best known conservative Congressman, William K. Van Pelt of the Sixth District and Henry Schadeberg of the First.

The August tornadoes which struck at several Wisconsin cities, with Port Washington hardest hit.

Another weird killing, in which the body of a missing Milwaukee girl was found in a sewer tunnel by a friend—aided by another youth who later admitted killing her there.

Demonstrations against alleged school segregation in Milwaukee by CORE and NAACP pickets.

A northern Wisconsin spectacular, in which a convict being returned to prison overpowered a sheriff, abducted his wife, raped another woman and led an assortment of officers on a day-long chase.

Insurance Is Big Business In Wisconsin

State Commissioner Notes Rapid Jump
In Licensed Firms

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — The insurance business is booming, says State Insurance Commissioner Charles Manson.

One of the signs is the rapid increase in the number of life insurance companies licensed to do business in the state. There are now 238 Wisconsin-licensed companies, against only about 55 of such firms a decade and a half ago, he said.

The year showed a total of 883 insurance companies of all kinds licensed to sell contracts in Wisconsin, and they reported total premium income of about $877 million, a gain of more than 7 per cent over the previous year.

Manson said a significant disclosure in his department's annual report is that there are now only 41 companies operating in the state limited to fire insurance only. The growth of multiple line businesses, through permissive legislation, has virtually eliminated the single-line insurance company, he explained.

22,500 Agents
The department head said there are now 22,500 insurance agents in the state licensed by the agency, about the same number reported in other recent years.

But the turnover in the field is relatively high. The year brought 4,096 new agents into the field through state examination, and an approximately equal number of retirements from the business.

Legislature to Feel 'Union Shop' Push

Municipal Unions Council Is Expected to Campaign for Bill

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON—The 1965 legislature that will convene Jan. 13 will feel a strong push for legislation to provide for the "union shop" in public employment.

The campaign to win legislative enactment of a bill that would require all employees in organized local government services to support the labor union will come from the Wisconsin State Council of Municipal Local Unions, which has had an increasingly successful impact on legislation during recent years.

The council six years ago won its first important legislative victory when it persuaded lawmakers to write an express grant of authority for labor organizations in the government services and for them to bargain collectively with municipal officials as employers. That statute has been broadened since then.

Better Progress
The council's member information organ published here disclosed today that its leaders have been advised against attempting to get rid of the public employee strike prohibition in the present state law, and that the union shop bill may make better progress if public school teachers are exempt from its provisions.

The counsel came from John A. Lawton, its legal advisor and chief legislative lobbyist.

The council's publicity organ said one of the main purposes of the union shop bill would be to resolve the problems of dissident minorities in local public employes unions.

Perplexing Problem
"The most perplexing problem ever faced by a union officer is that caused by a dissident group within the local that refuse to abide by the will of the majority on policy matters," it was said. "Armed with threats of the withdrawal of membership from the local, or more serious still, a threat of joining or starting a rival organization, the dissident group by implementing those threats can wreck the local completely or throw its affairs into such disarray that it may take years before the problem is straightened out. The swift and com-

Traffic Deaths In U. S. May Hit 48,000 in 1964

CHICAGO (AP) — Traffic deaths in 1964 have hit record high marks in at least 21 states and safety experts estimate that the nation's final toll this year will reach an all-time high of 48,000.

An Associated Press survey showed that traffic fatalities in the 21 states surpassed old marks before or during the Christmas holiday weekend. The survey also showed that several other states may top old records.

The National Safety Council, which has estimated this year's traffic deaths at 48,000, said final figures will not be available until late next month. Last year's toll of 43,600 was an all-proposed by a study committee, time high.

Advance in Production For 1964 Was Amazing

Gadgets Americans Crave for 'Good Life' Manufactured at Record Pace During Year

BY SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP) — In production of the gadgets and services that Americans crave for the good life, 1964 is claiming the title of champ.

Output figures now available show that in most categories, from washing machines to diesel trucks, records were set. In others, such as autos, the old highs were missed by only an eyelash.

Whether it's oil, electricity or auto air conditioners, the advances in production and sales this year underscore the amazing outflow.

Shipping Estimates
Here are some figures and estimates on the flood of products into the affluent consumer market:

The American Home Laundry Manufacturers' Association says shipments of such items as washers and dryers came to 6,007,000 units, up 7.7 per cent from 1963, and topping the record set eight years ago.

Doing something about the weather apparently had a banner year. A 38 per cent increase in sales of auto air conditioners brought the total to 1.4 million, according to Warner Electric Brake & Clutch. And Admiral Corp. says room air conditioner sales set a record at 2.5 million units.

Air Conditioning
The Air Conditioning and Refrigeration Institute adds that shipments of unitary air conditioners was up 20 per cent to 680,000 units and installations of large central station systems cost a billion dollars compared with $892 million in 1963.

Mobile homes and railroad cars used 50 per cent more aluminum in 1964. And the Aluminum Association adds that shipments for use in containers, packaging, and consumer durables was up 20 per cent. This brought production to a record 2.6 million tons, compared with last year's 2.3 million.

The output of diesel trucks hit a record 60,000 units, according to Perkins Engines, Inc. and the American Trucking Association, Inc. says that sales of all trucks topped the 1.25 million set in 1963.

Railroads spent a record $1.4 billion for new equipment in 1964. The Association of American Railroads says this was a 39 per cent increase over 1963.

Hauling the materials and goods that satisfy consumer wants increased rail hauling by 7 per cent to 665 billion ton miles. Aircraft production also increased. The Aerospace Industries Association puts it at 12,300 in 1964, against 11,000 the previous year — and the sales at $20 billion, up slightly.

Americans used 7 per cent more electricity, or 998 billion kilowatt hours. Gas consumption sent revenues up 5.4 per cent to $7.1 billion. Demand for petroleum products sent U.S. crude oil production up 2 per cent to a daily average of 7.7 million barrels, a record.

Auto Plants
Although crippled by strikes, auto plants turned out 7.7 million cars, some 100,000 more than 1963, and just 200,000 short of the 1955 record.

Backing all this up was a record steel production of around 127 million tons, against 109 million in 1963. And the Manufacturing Chemists' Association says chemical production rose 6 per cent, to bring sales up 4 per cent to $36 billion.

And while Americans were providing the ultimate market for most of this record industrial production, they also apparently found some time for contemplating it all. The Bourbon Institute reports that sales of this American-produced whisky in 1964 reached a record 29 million cases.

Lawrence Says

Redistricting
Top Issue for Next Congress

Described as Fight Between Political Machines, People

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
WASHINGTON—One of the major issues to come before Congress in the session beginning next week is little understood by the people. They have heard the word "reapportionment" referred to again and again in the press, but the subject is brushed aside as something of a technical or legal nature. The public really does not understand that the way this problem is handled can have more of an impact on American life in the future than almost any issue that has faced Congress in many decades. Senator George D. Aiken of Vermont, Republican, has expressed it this way: "To be specific, we are engaged in a struggle between the powerful political machines of the great cities and the people of the United States. Make no mistake about it—this is a battle for the political control of the nation, and with that control goes the power to tax, the power to spend and the power to enact programs which will affect the lives and welfare of every living person for generations to come."

Lawrence

Recent Decisions

Up to the time of the recent "reapportionment" decisions of the Supreme Court, the states operated under the theory that the Constitution gave them the right to apportion the representatives entitled to sit in each house of the legislature. But the court now says that it may decree how states shall allocate the members of their legislatures and in what districts the population may be divided.

When it came to the House of Representatives, the principle was recognized that the number of members from each state should be based upon population units, and the membership of the lower house has been reapportioned after the national census every ten years to establish the number to which each state is entitled. The theory is that there should be approximately the same number of voters in each voting district for the election of representatives to Congress throughout the country.

Same Principle

The same principle has been applied within the states in the structure of their own legislatures. Generally speaking, members of the lower house are allocated on approximately equal units of population, while the upper house may be constituted on a broader system of representation so as to permit a more objective view of current questions, especially sectional problems that could affect the economic or social welfare of the whole state.

Now the Supreme Court has declared that not merely the lower house of the state legislatures but the upper house as well must be apportioned so that equal units of population constitute the only yardstick of measurement. Senator Aiken puts it this way:

"Once both houses of the state legislatures are apportioned in accordance with the rule, control of fully half the states will pass to an urban majority, leaving the rural areas of a state as a minority or possibly without representation at all. Having achieved control of the legislature, the urban majority will then have the power to embark upon a legislative program designed to provide the greatest possible benefits to their urban constituents."

It has been suggested that Congress should submit to the states a constitutional amendment providing a method whereby each state may decide for itself whether it desires both houses of its legislature to be based upon population alone, or whether other factors may be considered. Amendments of this kind were proposed in the last session of Congress, but they were blocked by a minority—mostly senators from states with large votes in the big cities. It could take months to break another filibuster in Congress but inevitably a constitutional amendment is the only way to settle the question. (Copyright, 1964)

Judge Garth's Cows Get Into Landslide

BY TV SCOUT

6:30-8 (Channel 8) — "The Hour of the Tiger" on The Virginian is a busy little episode that should hold interest. There is certainly enough going on. Judge Garth's herd is trapped by a landslide and the Virginian slides into a complicated love affair when he meets a Chinese cookie disguised as a man to gain entry to this country. (COLOR)

7-7:30 (Channel 2) — Irene has her wires crossed on My Living Doll. The sister of Dr. Bob is ready to blow a fuse when Rhoda is called by everybody who meets the shapely robot "The Perfect Woman."

7:30-8 (Channel 11) — Shindig is up to its usual noisy and lively standard, with guests Bobby Rydell and Vic Dana heading the roster. Other nimble performers Donna Loren, Jerry Lee Lewis, the Blossoms, Mary Wells, the Wellingtons, Willy Nelson, and the Gauchos.

8-8:30 (Channel 2) — The tranquility of the Petrie home is threatened on The Dick Van Dyke Show when an old buddy shows up to seek Rob's aid in finding a job. It is a funny outing, and Jack Carter, a comedian well suited for such an assignment, plays the intruder with zest.

8-8:30 (Channel 11) — Mickey has an outlandish outing that tykes should especially enjoy. The comedian, who fears he is seeing spots before his eyes, almost has a nervous breakdown when he spots a baby elephant water skiing.

8-10 (Channel 4-5) — "Elephant Walk" on Wednesday Night at the Movies is a ponderous adventure concerning a young bride's trials in a new life in the lush jungles of Ceylon. It's chief merit (and chief scenery) is Elizabeth Taylor, who in 1954 when the film was made, was a slimmer and trimmer beauty. (COLOR)

8:30-9:30 (Channel 11) — "Who Killed David Jones?" on Burke's Law doesn't come up with any new, out-of-the-way adventures for sleuth Gene Barry who is trying to find the murderer of a shipping tycoon. The suspects are many. Among them: Broderick Crawford, Dennis Day, Reginald Gardiner, Ruta Lee, Sherree North and Cesar Romero.

9-10 (Channel 2) — Again The Danny Kaye Show casts its resourceful headliner in things he likes to do best — with guests Buddy Ebsen and Pat Carroll.

when Murphy won the election, achieving the highest elective post for any film figure.

Peter Sellers

7. Peter Sellers' heart attack. The youthful, newly married British comedy star was rescued from death by a hospital team after eight heart arrests.

8. Ethel Merman-Ernest Borgnine. Their much-publicized marriage lasted five weeks. At year's end "McHale's Navy" skipper was engaged, again, to actress Donna Randall.

9. The Beatles. They were the hottest attraction in show business and their visit caused riots in Hollywood, as they have everywhere. Their film "A Hard Day's Night" surprised everybody by being uncommonly good.

has been another turbulent year for the movie world. 2. The Elizabeth Taylor-Richard Burton wedding. The event itself may have seemed anticlimactic, but nevertheless the news stories of 1964. At year's highly headlined pair continued end, more trouble appeared on to make news.

3. The deaths of Gracie Allen, Harpo Marx and Eddie Cantor. Coming within a few weeks of each other, the loss of these great stars seemed to signal the sunset of a great era in entertainment. 4. Sidney Poitier's Oscar. Few Academy Awards have been as happily received by the film community as Poitier's for "Lilies of the Field." The award to the Negro actor was well-deserved, but it was especially significant in a time of racial unrest. Patricia Neal's Oscar for "Hud" was another popular choice. 5. The death of Alan Ladd. The sudden passing of the laconic, steel-eyed star was a shock to Hollywood. He had only recently made a comeback with "The Carpetbaggers."

6. George Murphy's election to the Senate. The former dancer was scarcely taken seriously in the Senate. The former dancer was scarcely taken seriously in the Senate. The former dancer was scarcely taken seriously in the Senate.

7. The Sinatra kidnapping trial. The bizarre kidnapping of Frank Sinatra Jr. at Lake Tahoe in December, 1963, was followed by some Hollywood Democrats; a trial that was equally bizarre. It ended in the conviction couldn't disguise their pride

National and Local Awards Available in Puzzle Test

BY CAPPY DICK

Which skater in the picture is different from all the others?

If you can find the correct man, you may win a pair of Mystery Tops as local preliminary prize and then go on to win a set of three educational books as a national prize. One of these books, is the big, illustrated, 946-page Advanced Junior Dictionary, ideal for use by school-age boys and girls. The other two books in the prize set, each illustrated with many pictures in color, are entitled "Everyday Problems in Science" and "In All Our States."

Five sets of these books will be awarded, one to each boy or girl whose contest entry is judged to be one of the five neatest and most original correct ones from the Fox Cities area.

After you have decided which skater is different, draw a ring around him. Clip the picture out. Paste it on a paper or a postal card. Print your name, age and address beneath the picture together with the name of your school.

With paints, crayons, cutouts or other means, decorate your entry in any neat, original way. Finally address it to Cappy Dick's Midweek Contest at the Post-Crescent and mail it before midnight Friday.

Names and addresses of the prize winners and names of the schools they attend will be published here and their awards will be sent to their homes by mail. Judges' decisions will be final. All entries become Cappy Dick's property; none can be returned.

Suggested Resolutions For Coming New Year

BY HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — One of the reasons we don't have a better world is that many people don't see too much wrong with the one we have.

They lack the imagination to see how our present defective paradise can be improved.

Actually, of course, a better world can be achieved only by making people better. This means that each individual must resolve to do better.

But many people are stumped when the annual season comes for making good resolutions. They honestly can't see why, in their own cases, any are necessary.

Suggested Guide

If this happens to be your plight, here is a checklist of suggested resolutions to guide you:

1. Insert your own name, do hereby resolve during 1965 to —
 - Cease bearing false witness against my neighbor. After all, I should be able to fix his little red wagon just by telling the truth about him.
 - Really contribute as much to charity as I claim I do on my income tax return.
 - Never zip into a desirable parking place while the fellow ahead of me is trying to back into it.
 - Refrain from telling my teen-ager how much tougher life was when I was a kid, since I know very well my father had a tougher life than both of us put together.
- Read Novel
- Read at least one good novel during the year that isn't under attack as being pornographic.

- Quit trying to show my boss the errors of his ways.
- Pat him on the back now and then when, by a blind stroke of luck, he manages to do something constructive. This will encourage him to try harder.
- Make at least one human heart happier by carrying the garbage out for my wife at least once a month.

- Write a "To whom it may concern" letter of recommendation for ex-Premier Khrushchev. A guy down on his luck can get in seeking a new job.
- Limit my denunciations of the government — and my consumption of martinis — to no more than two a day.
- Abstain, so far as possible, from jeering at women, suburbanites, after-dinner speakers and television comedians. Those forms of life are in desperate need of encouragement, not criticism.
- Avoid laughing at fat men. This not only shows good manners; it may also keep you from getting a punch on the jaw.

- Remember to applaud the second, third and fourth robin of spring. Why give all the credit to the first robin?
- Get at last five more hours of sleep at home each week, and sleep five fewer hours on the job.
- Shout any praise I have for others, but only whisper any complaints I have about my own woes.
- Fight down any temptations I may have to brag to friends — or to get into card games with strangers.
- Offer to lend money to anyone I feel like offering free advice.
- Lose my temper no more often than I would my wallet.
- Now, paste this list of resolutions in your hat. If, by the end of 1965, you have kept even half of them, you will have done more than create a better world around you.
- You will have won personal immortality. For your amazed

movie "To Be Alive" was cited as an "outstanding achievement in the creative use of the motion picture." The film was produced for S. C. Johnson & Son Inc., of Racine, Wis., by Francis Thompson and Alexander Hammid. It includes scenes and sounds on three continents to convey the message that there is an abundance of happiness in the world for those who will look for it.

Johnson's Wax Film Gets Special Award
